MAJOR GENERAL HENRY LEWIS BENNING, CSA

Fort Benning was named after the Confederate Major General Benning. Born Henry Lewis Benning on 2 April 1814 in Columbia County, Georgia, Benning was the third child of Pleasant Moon and Malinda Meriweather White Benning. While he was a very young man he moved with his parents to a plantation in Harris County, Georgia. At the age of 20, he graduated from Franklin College (now the University of Georgia) in Athens, Georgia.

After graduation from college, Henry L. Benning studied law in Talbotton, Georgia and was admitted to the bar in 1835. In 1837, he was made Solicitor General of the Chattahoochee Circuit and was later elected to and served in the General Assembly of Georgia. On 12 September 1839, he married Mary Howard Jones, daughter of Colonel Seaborn Jones. In 1853, Benning was elected as a judge of the Supreme Court of Georgia.

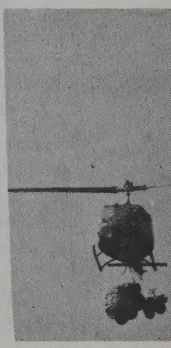
At the beginning of the War Between the States, Benning entered the Confederate Army as Colonel of the 7th Regiment of Georgia Infantry. Approximately one year later he was promoted to the rank of Brigadier General.

General Benning participated in the battles of Second Manassas, Sharpsburg, Chickamauga, and the Wilderness. He was severely wounded at the Wilderness and never regained the use of his arm.

General Benning was known as "Old Rock" by his troops for his calmness and daring in battle. In the final days before the surrender of the confederate forces he was promoted to Major General.

After the war, General Benning returned to Columbus and practiced law until his death on 10 July 1875.

Fort Benning, which is located 9 miles south of Columbus, Georgia, on US Highway 27, is known as the "Home of the Infantry." It is here that the famed US Army Infantry School was established and through the years gradually emerged as the most influential infantry center in the modern world. Fort Benning and the USAIS are so intertwined that it is virtually impossible to trace the history of Fort Benning without recording the evolution of the school. From 1918 until the present the development of Fort Benning has been directly proportionate to the progress of the USAIS. Throughout the years the mission of Fort Benning and the USAIS has remained fundamentally the same--"to produce the world's finest combat infantryman."



The progress of the Infantry School can be demonstrated by the different modes of transportation utilized.

CHAPTER 1

INTRODUCTION TO THE INFANTRY

This booklet on the history of Fort Benning, Georgia, was prepared as a national bicentennial salute to the American Infantry, the individual Infantryman, and his home, the U.S. Army Infantry Center and Infantry School.

While Camp Benning was founded in 1918 and thus may claim a rightful reference in our nation's 200-year history, the Infantryman walked side-by-side with our flag from the beginning. Indeed, the Infantry was enthroned twenty-five hundred years ago as the "Queen of Battles" and its position among the combat arms remains preeminent.

Only by blood and sweat, privation and hardship, only by perseverance and steel nerve, by sheer heart and soul has its position been won. Too businesslike to be romantic, too bloody to be attractive to the nobility, it has not always received its mead of written praise. But down through the ages when kingdoms were made or fell, when civilizations rose or were submerged, the Infantry has been at the heart of the contest to influence the outcome of history.

The Infantry stands not alone nor to it belongs the sole credit. There has always been glory enough for all. The human body needs other organs than the heart and so the Infantry needs the other arms to complete the perfect whole.

Fighting Machine With A Soul

The Infantry owes its place to the fact that it is the People. The Infantryman is the fighting machine with a soul. He is an instrument of war created by God and no man-made machine may equal or excel him. When a people have been strong, sturdy, clean and imbued with love of country, its infantry has shown like qualities. But when ease, luxury, licentiousness and the mad pursuit of money have rotted the heart of the body politic, the Infantry has suffered likewise.

The Infantryman is not made in a day. Because he marches against the enemy by the aid of his own legs, to grapple with the enemy with his own hands, because of the iron discipline he must acquire, because of the versatility which must be his, because his very individuality which is his strength when trained may be his undoing when untrained, he may only attain the condition of a good Infantryman after long, unremitting, arduous and thorough training.

There is a peculiar impression of irresistible power by great bodies of marching men. There is no man with soul so sodden that he does not thrill at the steady beat of the Infantry march nor feel the tremendous latent power that lies within. The dash of cavalry, the rumble of the guns may quicken him to greater surface enthusiasm, but they do not leave him with that persistent impression of power. It is the soul of the Infantry that he feels. Only the rush, continuous, mighty, eternal of the waters over Niagara may be likened to it.

The prowess of the Infantry and its influence on man and his affairs stand out dramatically in the pages of history.

It was ten thousand Greek Infantryman who, faced by ten times their number smashed the Persian hosts at Marathon twenty-five hundred years ago and assured to us Greek civilization with its gifts of art and letters.

It was the Infantryman who made good Sparta's boast that men, not walls, were her protection. It was the Infantryman who gave to the world at Thermopylae that unparalleled example of soldierly devotion.

It was the Infantryman about whom Alexander built the army that hewed for him his great empire out of the East and marched with him from the Aegean Sea to the heights of the Himalayas.

It was the Infantryman who carried the Roman law and governmental system over the world and who held Rome's far-flung frontiers against every assault so long as Rome herself deserved such devotion.

It was the English archer who brought down the knight from his blundering horse and drove in the thin edge of the wedge that finally broke the back of the feudal system with its privileges for the few and its oppression of the many.

The Dark Ages cast their shadow over the Infantry. For the warrior who felt the need of an armored skin so weighty as to require the services of other legs than his own and who spent his days philandering about the country slaying seven-headed, fire-eating dragons, or in beating a tatto on the tin back of his opponent for the smiles of some fair maiden, the bloody, and businesslike infantry was no attractive service. There was a gory crudeness about infantry work which must have proved most distasteful to the scions of the leading families of that day.

It Was The Infantry

It was to the Infantry of the Old Guard that Napoleon turned in his last desperate attempt to save his Empire at Waterloo and it was the British Infantry that broke the Old Guard and wrote an end to Napoleon's story.

It was the Infantry who faced Infantry in our Civil War and strewed the country from the Mississippi to the sea with their bodies. And it was an Infantryman whose infantry qualities of dogged perseverence, loyalty to principle and contempt of losses finally preserved these United States as one.

In World War I, though subjected to all that hisotry and modern ingenuity could devise by way of frightfulness and terror, the Infantryman acquitted himself gloriously. But he paid the time-old price with his dead. Neither bomb nor shell nor bullet nor poison gas nor flame could daunt him and he went his way to victory as was his wont.

In World War II, the Infantry was the heart of the greatest Army ever assembled. It met and defeated the enemy on both sides of the world and wrote sagas of bravery at Bataan, Africa, Normandy, Anzio and St. Lo. In Korea, it was the Infantryman who gathered his strength around Pusan and marched to the Yalu. In Vietnam, he pursued the enemy on the wings of power and conquered him in the rice paddies and forests.

The Infantryman has never felt the need of surrounding his profession with mystery or strange names. But whether it be the javelin or the spear, the dagger or the sword, the long bow or the cross bow, the arquebus, the musket or the rifle, the machinegun, cannon, mortar tank or nuclear arms, to them the Infantry has been ever ready to turn its hand and make good use of them in battle.

The Infantry stands today as it has stood down through the ages -- stouthearted, undaunted, ever ready to take one more step toward the enemy, ever ready to strike him one more blow.

The Development of the American Infantry

The development of Infantry in the Anglo-American tradition, as distinct from the Continental experience, had its beginning in English history following the Norman conquest. It was characterized by the evoluation of policy and by the development of a keen appreciation of marksmanship combined with the woodscraft.

Through the Continent, and particularly Prussia and France, had a marked and unfortunate influence on Anglo-American Infantry tactics and equipment, the early Anglo-American Infantry tradition survived.

Early Field Service Regulations (tactics) were copied by the Americans from the French. After the formation of the United States, a Frenchman emerged who was to have a tremendous impact on the development of the Infantry in the Western World. Napoleon and his Army swept through Europe conquering all with whom they came in contact. Napoleon strongly believed that artillery was the dominate arm in waging war. With the use of cannons, the French forces destroyed 72,000 Austrian troops at Austerlutz, 45,000 Prussians at Jena and 56,000 Russians at Friedland. Needless to say, the armies of the world quickly turned their attention to artillery while the Infantry was forced into the background.

Military Policy and Service Regulations (Articles of War) were taken with only slight modification from the British Continental tactics, which became popular with the British in the 18th Century, and with the Americans in the early 19th Century, had an adverse effect on Anglo-American Infantry.

Artillery turned out to not be the absolute weapon it was originally thought, but only after the Infantry returned to a reliance on marksmanship, dispersion, cover and concealment.

Baron von Steuben should be remembered for his effectiveness in instilling discipline in Washington's Army.

When von Steuben arrived at Valley Forge, he found the Colonial Army was an unruly and undisciplined mob. With General Washington's approval he immediately launched a program designed to discipline the Army. First, von Steuben trained the officers and organized them into a cadre for training the remainder of the Army. In addition, he induced General Washington to create a guard of outstanding soldiers to serve as a model for the rest of the Army. Thus formal infantry training was introduced into the American Army; however, because of many events it would take almost a century before a permanent center was established for training officers and soldiers in infantry techniques.

During the War of 1812, even though General Andrew Jackson's 7th Infantry, in the best Infantry tradition, decimated Lord Packingham's British regulars who had been "taken in" by fashions in Continental warfare, the Infantry did not play a significant role. The majority of the victories gained by the U.S. in this war were naval.

In 1813, a New System of Discipline, based on French methods was adopted in an effort to standardize the training of Infantrymen. European military doctrine continued to dominate American thought.

In 1815, a board of officers composed of Generals Scott and Swift and Colonels Fenwick, Cumming and Drayton created a new set of Infantry Drill Regulations, patterned after The Rules and Regulations for the Field Service and Maneuvers of the French Infantry. This was the first significant work of this type to be prepared by American Army officers.

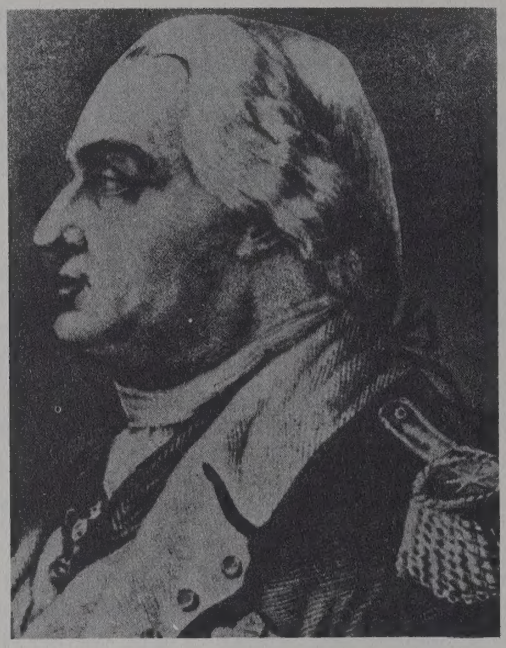
The American people and the government were not willing to accept the need for well-trained Infantry soldiers. With the Industrial Revolution and the expansion of the frontier the people had little time to devote to the long-range concepts of a strong military establishment. Still, military officers pointed out that further penetration into the frontier would require trained military personnel to establish discipline and to maintain law and order through the new territories.

Continential tactics, which emphasized Artillery and maneuver by Infantry on a narrow front without interval, was responsible for heavy British losses in the American Revolution and persisted to later plague the Infantry in the American Civil War and as late as August 1914 for the British.

CHAPTER 2

THE INFANTRY SCHOOL CONCEPTION

In 1826, Major General Edmund P. Gaines persuaded the War Department to authorize the establishment of an infantry post at St. Louis for the purpose of organizing an "Infantry School of Instruction" to improve the efficiency of the Infantry. Thus, in 1826, Jefferson Barracks became the Infantry's first school. The School failed to endure and was officially closed on 24 November 1828.



The concept of a school to train Infantrymen was first engendered by Baron von Steuben during the American Revolution.

The next decades of our history are filled with minor Indian wars, and a punitive expedition into Mexico--an era which did not permit the Infantry to do much towards its improvement.

The War Between the States provided a grim picture of the training status of our Infantry forces. Neither the Union forces nor the Confederate forces were able to field well-trained and disciplined troops. Bloody battles like Shiloh, Fredericksburg, and Gettysburg reflected not only the lack of training and leadership; but also the fact that the weapons used (the Minie Rifle) were far in advance of the tactics in which they were employed.

The years following the Civil War can be termed the dark ages of the Army. Once again apathy towards the military seemed to be the attitude of the citizens of the US.

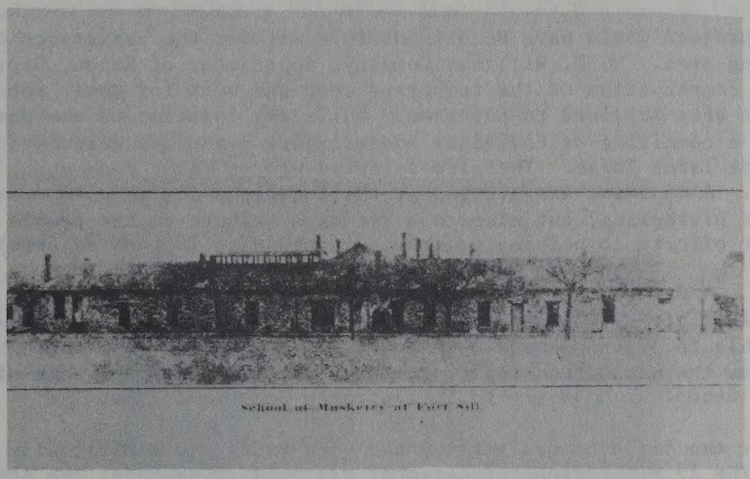
The Army lacked officers trained for the leadership of large bodies of troops or to serve on large unit staffs. Training doctrine was geared strictly to the small unit. The War Department was loosely organized with officers who had very little knowledge of the problems of the line soldier. The biggest problem, however, was the lack of trained volunteers. The citizen-soldier became almost nonexistent. In summary, the beginning of the 20th Century found the Army weak in organization for command, weak in coordination and planning at all levels, and extremely deficient in training. Basically the United States had no clear cut policy for national defense.

Meanwhile, the military postgraduate-school idea had been gaining popularity throughout the armies of Europe, mostly in Germany and France. To keep up with the trend the US Army established the School of Application for Infantry and Cavalry at Fort Leavenworth in 1881. This school later evolved as the present day Command and General Staff College. In 1892 the Fort Riley School for Cavalry and Field Artillery was created. Later this school was split into the Fort Riley School for Cavalry and the Fort Sill School for Field Artillery. Still no school was established for the Infantry.



In January 1913 The School of Musketry was transferred from Presidio of Monterey, CAlifornia to Fort Sill, Oklahoma.

Due to his concern over the decline of good marksmanship in the Army, Lieutenant General Arthur MacArthur persuaded the Army to establish the School of Musketry at the Presidio of Monterey, California on 21 February 1907. This may be called the beginning of the present Infantry School, and the event which led to the creation of Fort Benning.

In January 1913 the School of Musketry was transferred from Presidio of Monterey, California to Fort Sill, Oklahoma; however, the development of this school was interrupted shortly after it was transferred in order to send troops to the Mexican border to pursue Mexican bandits. Throughout the next four years the School of Musketry operated in a very limited capacity due to the severe manpower shortage throughout the Army.

With the outbreak of World War I the need to expand our Army became increasingly more apparent. The size of Fort Sill, Oklahoma, was not adequate for the training of both the Infantry and the Artillery. A separate camp for training the Infantry had to be established.

In addition to more Infantrymen, General Pershing also needed a larger number of Artillerymen. This gave the Artillery School of Fire at Fort Sill, Oklahoma, a natural excuse to complain about the lack of training ground available to them because of the presence of the Infantry School of Arms. The Artillery also wanted more land for the location of another training center. Thus both the Infantry and the Artillery competed for camp sites.

On May 21, 1918, the Adjutant General's Office appointed Colonel Henry E. Eames to head a board of officers to meet at Fort Sill, for the purpose of selecting a site for the Infantry School of Arms. Many sites were considered, but most were disqualified based on severe winter climate, unsuitable terrain, remoteness and excessive transportation costs. The board decided on Fayetteville, North Carolina, but later settled on Columbus, Georgia, after Fayetteville was taken as an artillery site.

Infantry School of Arms

On September 18, 1918, the Adjutant General directed that the Infantry School of Arms with all personnel, property and equipment, move to Columbus, Georgia by 1 October 1918.

Major J. Paul Jones was assigned the monumental task of building a cantonment area to accommodate the arriving troops. The time factor alone was the greatest obstacle he faced, for the first troops would arrive in approximately 2 weeks.

The entire project would have been impossible without the assistance of the citizens of the surrounding area. W. Z. Williams Company, contractor of Macon, Georgia, had agreed to undertake the construction of the temporary camp and wait for their money when proper authorization had been obtained to pay them. While the location of the camp site was being determined a committee of civilians and military personnel were laying out the plans and organizing the labor force. The site selected was on Macon Road about three miles east of Columbus. A monument was erected at the location, not only to serve as a reminder of Camp Benning's birthplace, but also to serve as a tribute to the people of Columbus for their magnificent efforts in helping to construct the camp in such an unbelievably short period.

In January 1917 after General Pershing withdrew his troops from the Mexican border, the School was able to begin classes once again. The war in Europe which had been raging for 2 years became the number one topic of study. Also in 1917 the name of the School was changed from the School of Musketry to the Infantry School of Arms.

On 6 October the first troops arrived and Camp Benning was officially born the following day. The 19th of October a ceremony was held to christen the Army post as Camp Benning.

Temporary buildings and tents which housed the first troops to arrive at Camp Benning located 3 miles from Columbus on Macon Road.

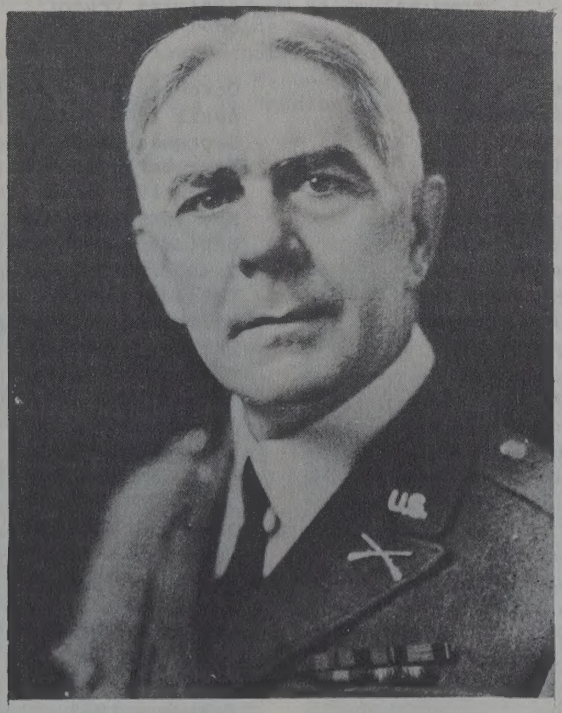
CHAPTER 3

THE EARLY YEARS AT FORT BENNING

On October 5, 1918, Colonel Eames was appointed Commandant of the Infantry School of Arms. He soon determined that the original site of Camp Benning was not suitable for the type training for which the Infantry School was responsible. In his efforts to find more suitable terrain Colonel Eames discovered an area on the south side of Columbus which appeared to possess the topographical features desired to meet the needs of the school. The land was owned by Arthur Bussey and was part of the Bussey Plantation. Action to acquire the property was initiated by the Secretary of War to the Attorney General of the United States, and on October 19, 1918, the Assistant Secretary of War approved an expenditure of $3,600,000 for the purchase of what would be Camp Benning's 115,000 acre reservation. The purchase also included the large frame house which now serves as the home for the Commanding General.

On October 30, the Assistant Secretary of War approved an expenditure of $9,119,875 for the establishment of an Infantry School of Arms for 25,000 men at Camp Benning. Construction work and local procurement proceedings for the new camp began almost immediately.

With the termination of World War I there began much debate on the feasibility and justification of spending more money for the establishment of new military posts. On January 9, 1919, the building project at Camp Benning was halted when Congressional action ordered the Constructing Quartermaster to salvage and abandon the camp.



Colonel Henry E. Eames was appointed the first Commandant of the Infantry School on 5 October 1918.

"Riverside" was part of the Bussey Plantation purchased in 1918. Since its acquisition, "Riverside" has served as the quarters of the Commandant of the Infantry School.

Over the next few months the Army continued to push for Camp Benning. In March, 1919, the Construction Division of the Army was directed to take over the purchase of land. The project was reauthorized, not on the same wartime level, but at least a start was begun. With the reauthorization came the construction of quarters for officers and noncommissioned officers, a hospital, school buildings, and all facilities for support services to include ammunition magazines, warehouses and storehouses, together with the utility facilities necessary to serve the camp.

On April 21, 1919, Major General Charles S. Farnsworth assumed command of Camp Benning with aspirations to make it the largest and most influential Army post in the United States. His main efforts were concentrated on securing some recognition of permanency for the camp.

July 22, 1919, General Farnsworth wrote a letter to Brigadier General Paul B. Malone informing him that he was to be the Assistant Commandant, and as such, would have immediate charge of the Infantry School. Upon General Malone's arrival one of his first acts was to begin the preparation of a digest of information on matters pertaining to the Infantry School for Congress. The premise of the report was laid out by judging the relative importance of the Infantry School measured by the magnitude of the task which confronts the Infantry in the winning of battles, and the extent to which Infantry training may serve to reduce the wastage of human lives in the future.

General Malone's report had some effect on Congress in that the Congressional committee agreed to send a representative committee to visit Camp Benning.

A few months later Thomas S. Crago, a representative from Pennsylvania spoke out against Congress in justification of the importance of the Infantry Training School. This action, the delegation visit, and the research data were all effective. In February 1920, the purchase of land to complete Camp Benning was authorized. Although Congress had agreed to complete the purchase of lands contracted for, it had not by any means precluded the possibility that Camp Benning would be discontinued. It was still a great possibility and would remain so as long as Benning was considered a temporary camp.

Officer quarters in the early 1920's

Noncommissioned Officers quarters in 1920's

In General Order Number 1, January 9, 1922, the War Department announced Camp Benning as a permanent military installation. The impossible had come to pass, and the Infantry finally had a home.

In June of 1922 Fort Benning began building again. The Quartermaster General ordered construction of ten double sets of officer quarters. These were to be the first quarters included as part of the permanent construction planned for the school. By 1923 housing conditions for some had improved. Brick quarters were built for permanent officers and noncommissioned officers and it was noted that the laundry, PX, and commissary facilities were not surpassed by any other military post.

Colonel George C. Marshall arrived at Fort Benning in November, 1927, and took the position as Assistant Commandant and head of the Academic Department. During his tenure he revamped the entire instructional system of the Infantry School. Besides the reorganization project, Marshall introduced research into other fields of activity, some of which led to important developments of machinegun techniques, especially anti-aircraft firing. Marshall had a special tank company organized and tried to get an air detachment for the school. Unable to obtain the latter he arranged for annual demonstrations of air support technique by a squadron from Maxwell Field, Montgomery, Alabama.

Marshall was also at that time considered one of the most knowledgeable men in the field of foreign armies. Consequently, under his guidance the methods and doctrine of foreign armies were inaugurated and modifications were planned in the course of instruction to keep in line with current developments in infantry armament and tactics.

Housing and construction still remained the central problem at Fort Benning, but construction continued. In 1928 the school library was completed and housed one of the finest military libraries in the Army at that time. In 1929 a new cuartel section was completed and a new water filtration plant was built.

General Campbell King took command of the post on May 1, 1929. As the year 1930 approached, he would supervise the beginning of Fort Benning's greatest era of growth.

CHAPTER 4

THE DEPRESSION - AN ERA OF EXPANSION

The 1930's were eventful years for Fort Benning. George C. Marshall was concluding his enormously influential tenure. Names such as Bradley and Stilwell could be found throughout the staff and faculty at the Infantry School.

The 1930's brought the great depression and with it large amounts of money to be spent in the construction of permanent buildings at Fort Benning. Such projects as the Public Works Administration, Works Progress Administration and Civilian Conservation Corps enabled Fort Benning to at least obtain modern facilities.

Building #35, for years the post headquarters as well as the academic center of the Infantry School, was completed in 1935. A year earlier a dream of many officers was realized when the Officers Club was built. A modern chapel was constructed along with a radio building, new noncommissioned officers' quarters, a permanent guardhouse, and apartment building for officers. Also the living facilities of both the 29th Infantry and the 24th Infantry were expanded and improved. The 83d Field Artillery received a new guardhouse and stables. In addition, apartments for bachelor officers, a print shop, field grade officer quarters and a new lighting system for streets were constructed.

In 1933, Fort Benning became the regional center for Civilian Conservation Corps. Many of the Infantry School instructors became supervisors of CCC Camps within the vicinity of Fort Benning. At the height of the program approximately 800 men a day were shuttled through the post and on to establish forest camps. Most of these men were conditioned at Fort Benning for 2 weeks and then sent to forestry camps. Some workers remained at Fort Benning and worked on military projects. At one time there was a tent city located on the reservation which housed 8,000 CCC men.

It was during the 1930's, more than any other time, that Fort Benning literally emerged as the "Home of the Infantry." The automatic weapon, the machinegun, and the tank demanded that alterations and adaptations be made in the infantry organization. Through research conducted at Fort Benning, the old style regiment was discarded and a new configuration adopted. The emphasis was now on firepower and mobility.

In 1932 the Tank School was transferred from Fort Meade, Maryland, to Fort Benning. The idea behind the move was to acquaint infantry officers with the characteristics, powers and limitations of the tank. At the time of the move, it was planned to treat the tank exactly like other infantry weapons of the time.

Another innovation was the streamlining of the course at the Infantry School so that the largest number of officers could be taught efficiently and completely in the shortest possible time. This took place in 1934 when the Advanced Course and the Company Officers Course were combined to create the Regular Course. This course was intended for officers in the Regular Army and was designed to train officers in tactical duties, to include both the command staff levels and infantry divisions. Subjects covered in this course included tactics, and the techniques of other arms, including the combined deployment of all branches of the Infantry. Emphasis was placed on practical application of subject matter.

As the 1930's began to close, the world situation was becoming more ominous. The Infantry School, striving to keep abreast of the times, was continuing her effective reorganization and consolidation. In 1939, the school allotted 428 of the 1234 hours of the Regular Course to motors and weapons, including the study of tanks. Another block of 186 hours was used for teaching the logistics of supply and movement. Also emphasized at this time was the study of maps and aerial photographs, mobilization, terrain application, combat intelligence and field orders.

In the fall of 1939, the War in Europe erupted. One week after war was declared in Europe, President Roosevelt declared a state of limited national emergency. At this time the Regular Army was authorized to increase from 210,000 to 227,000 and the National Guard from 190,000 to 235,000. This buildup immediately affected Fort Benning when the First Division arrived during the winter of 1939 for field training. The division brought the strength of the post up to 16,000 men. The First Division occupied a tent city of 8,500 men.

As 1940 emerged, Fort Benning was indisputably the "Home of the Infantry." The vast amount of construction that had been done, combined with the intellectual growth and advancements being made, enabled Fort Benning to establish itself as a permanent and very influential base of military operations.

CHAPTER 5

THE CONSTRUCTION OF AN ARMY - WORLD WAR II - PEACE

In the 1930's, the tank school moved to Fort Benning from Fort Meade. The tactics and techniques of how our tanks and armored forces was to be employed was controlled by the then Chief of Infantry's office, but with the beginning of World War II all of the mechanized effort and all of the tanks were transferred to the Cavalry at Fort Knox and became the foundation of the armored force.

With the eruption of World War II in Europe and with the declaration of a national emergency by President Roosevelt, the Infantry School and Fort Benning rapidly went into action to prepare the nation and the Army for the inevitable war.

By the spring of 1940, there were 45,000 troops at Fort Benning, representing all types of units. This was an increase of 29,000 men from the winter of 1939. Tank units began to appear throughout the post, and the first antitank battalions were organized at Fort Benning. Twenty-six classes of all kinds were being conducted at the Infantry School by late spring of 1941. In addition, Lawson Field was expanded when the 27th Bombardment Group arrived from Barksdale Field, Louisiana.

By 1941, the training obligations had grown to such huge proportions that the Army was forced to purchase 11,722 acres of land on the west bank of the Chattahoochee River in Russell County, Alabama, in order to meet training obligations. Also the construction program was expanded to meet the growing housing requirement created by the arrival of more troops.

During 1941 and 1942 two programs were initiated at the Infantry School which were to have a definite impact on the outcome of the world war as well as a tremendous influence on the U.S. Army for years to come. The first program was the Officer Candidate Program which was designed to meet the need for small unit commanders created by World War II. The second was the creation of the Parachute School to train soldiers in the techniques of military parachuting.

The first officer candidates arrived at Fort Benning in July 1941 and by 1946 70,000 officer candidates had been graduated, providing the bulk of the infantry platoon leaders and company commanders in the war. The program was considered so important, in fact, that many of the classes training experienced officers in advanced infantry tactics and techniques were cancelled in order to make facilities and instructors available for OCS classes.

In 1940 2 officers and 46 enlisted men were selected from the 29th Infantry at Fort Benning to form the test platoon for the new airborne concept. The test platoon made its first jump on August 13, 1940, at Lawson Field. On May 15, 1942 after almost 2 years of testing and experimenting, the Parachute School was created. This school was to provide the paratroopers who would make significant contributions to victory in Europe.

With the end of World War II, the Army began to draw down in size and with it Fort Benning and the Infantry School.

Fort Benning became one of the large separation centers located throughout the nation.

By 1947 the Officer Candidate Program was no longer crowded and in the Fall of 1947 the School was transferred to Fort Riley, Kansas, where it remained until January 1951. Also in 1947 the parachute school was placed under the supervision of the Infantry School. The airborne concept had definitely become an integral part of the Army, and the Airborne Department of the Infantry School began training more and more paratroopers. The curriculum of the Infantry School also settled and only 10,000 officers and enlisted soldiers were expected for the academic years of 1947-48.

In 1947, although the Infantry School found itself in a relaxed state, the school could not afford to ride on its past accomplishments for the Cold War was just around the corner--and soon the Infantry School would be called upon to shoulder a large share of the burden of building up the US Army once again.

CHAPTER 6

THE COLD WAR ERA

Following the surrender of the Empire of Japan, US military demobilization proceeded at a furious pace.

In February 1948, construction and renovation of the hospital facilities was the principal activity on post. Conferences were held by representatives of the Surgeon General, Third Army and the Chief of Engineers. It was determined that hospital facilities had to be expanded. During that same period construction was also started on recreation and transportation facilities as well as the Bachelor Officers Mess.

From April 1 to June 30, 1948, the Infantry School carried on routine instruction. There was no change in mission, training policy, doctrine or conduct of courses. The only new instructional change was the opening of a special Auto Mechanics Course for enlisted men of the National Guard.

In an effort to reorganize and consolidate activities, while at the same time reducing strength, the Airborne Requirements Board was established. The Airborne Requirements Board was soon consolidated with the Infantry Requirements Board and redesignated the Infantry Airborne Requirements Committee. This committee was composed of three permanent members and twelve associate members representing Infantry, Artillery, Armor, Cavalry, Engineers, Signal, Medical organizations and Quartermaster branches. The mission of the committee was to assist the Commandant in the development and perfection of Infantry and Airborne tactics and techniques.

In the early part of 1949 Fort Benning began experiencing a tremendous expanion of personnel. The world situation had led President Truman and Congress to believe it was necessary to have a form of peacetime draft. The result was the Selective Service Act passed in June 1948. The first peacetime Selective Service draft brought the Armed Forces of the United States to their authorized strength. The number of personnel at Fort Benning was destined to reach its highest peak since the early days of World War II.

The onslaught of the Korean War brought more changes to Fort Benning. As a result of the war the Infantry School converted from a 40 to 44 hour academic work week. All courses were reviewed to eliminate unnecessary subjects, while at the same time most courses were intensified but reduced in length. The Infantry School's program of instruction emphasized weapons, small unit tactics, physical fitness, night operations, defensive combat, and combined arms teamwork.

One of the greatest difficulties of the accelerated training program was that it did not follow the planned mobilization program. The result was a shortage of training personnel and training equipment.

The total number of classes at the Infantry School increased from 104 in 1950 to 247 in 1951. The greatest increase was felt in the Associate Infantry Company Officers classes which results from a Department of the Army directive requiring all newly commissioned officers coming on active duty to attend the branch associate course. Two new courses added were the Field Grade Officers Refresher Course and the Company Grade Officers Refresher Course. The purpose of these courses, which lasted one month, was to acquaint recalled World War II officers with the latest Infantry tactics and techniques.

In October 1952, a special class of 153 South Korean officers started a five month course based upon the Associate Company Officer program of instruction. This course which was conducted through South Korean interpreters was 20 weeks in duration and designed to train South Korean officers in Infantry tactics. Upon completion of the course these officers returned to their units in South Korea.

The great influx of troops in 1949 resulted in an acute housing shortage. The House Armed Services Committee soon approved a 28.7 million dollar construction program at Fort Benning. The program included additional housing, bridges, training utilities, hospital facilities and the construction of a new school. Proper military housing was somewhat provided for when a two million dollar project, named the "Upatoi Terrace Project," was opened in May of 1952. In 1956, the House Armed Services Committee approved the Capehart housing program for military installations in order to provide home rentals at installations where the tour of duty made it impracticable and costly for an enlisted man or an officer to invest his money in buying a home. The Capehart program insured that home rentals would be provided for the military. The program would be a big saving to the government while at the same time it would not cause any great reduction or pose any threat to the economic community of Columbus.

In the spring of 1958, Martin Army Hospital opened, only three years after the first moves were made to procure the completely air-conditioned modern edifice. The 500-bed hospital helped meet the medical needs of the huge military installation.

During the 1950's Fort Benning truly became known as the mecca for Infantry training. The anxieties and worries of being discontinued or uprooted had ceased to haunt the Infantry School. It had grown much too large and important. The 3d Infantry Division was at Fort Benning from December 1954 to April 1958 when it gyrosoped to Europe and was succeeded at Fort Benning by the 2d Infantry Division in March 1958 under the ROCID (Reorganization of Combat Infantry Division) - (Pentomic) organization.

With the outbreak of hostilities in Korea in June 1950, the need arose once again for Rangers. A Ranger training section was established at Fort Benning on 10 October 1950. Fourteen Airborne-Ranger companies were formed and trained at the Ranger Training Command, Fort Benning, Georgia, between September 1950 and September 1951. In October 1951, the Chief of Staff, General J. Lawton Collins, directed that "Ranger training be extended to all combat units in the Army." The Commandant of the Infantry School was directed to establish a Ranger Department for the purpose of conducting a Ranger Course of instruction. The overall objective of Ranger training was to raise the standard of training in all combat units. This program was built upon what has been learned from the Rangers of the past. In World War II, the concept of employment was Ranger battalions. During Korea the concept was Airborne-Ranger companies. The training then changed to an individual training the Army today. The individual Ranger training continues to be conducted at Fort Benning, with the mountain phase conducted at Dahlonega, GA, and the jungle phase conducted at Eglin, Florida. However, the World War II conccept of Ranger Battalions is one again current doctrine.

A ranger training program was established in 1950

Throughout the 1950's Fort Benning welcomed guests from home and abroad. Infantry demonstrations became a common occurrence as the newest developments were unveiled to civilian and military visitors alike. Fort Benning had become the undisputed representative of Infantry doctrine, tactics and weapons.

The Infantry Center not only helped to bridge the gap between nations, but also between civilian and military communities. Its community relations program was lauded by the Department of the Army. One of the largest and most important gatherings at Fort Benning was the Joint Civilian Orientation Conference, sponsored by the Department of Defense to show leading civilians new developments in weapons, combat readiness and doctrine of the United States Armed Forces.

On October 18, 1956, the Second Tripartite Infantry Conference convened at Fort Benning. Senior officers from the United States, the United Kingdom and Canada discussed and exchanged views on policies of infantry doctrine, organization, and equipment, with plans for eliminating any operational obstacles to full cooperation among the three armies. And in keeping with Infantry School leadership, in 1958, a prestigious and highly successful worldwide Infantry conference was convened at Fort Benning. This conference brought together the top leadership in the Army.

Fort Benning's history reflected high levels of excellence during the 50's. Not only did it train enlisted soldiers and officers in the latest advancements and discoveries in infantry doctrine, tactics and weapons, but it was also responsible for making and incorporating those advancements and discoveries into operational doctrine.

CHAPTER 7

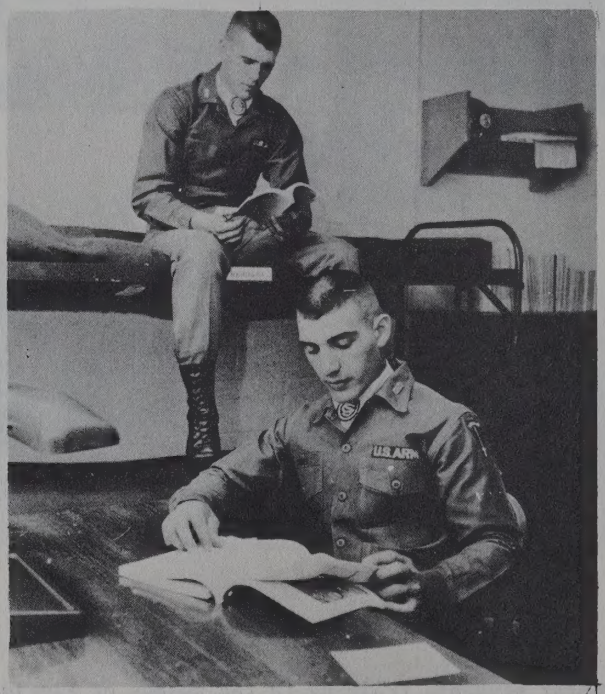
THE 1960's - VIETNAM CONFLICT

The 1960's was an era of rapid change and innovation at Fort Benning and the Infantry Center. It was a decade of war, and the Infantry School once again found itself responsible for formulating new concepts and tactics to fight a guerilla conflict in Vietnam as well as the training of new combat leaders for a rapidly expanding Army.

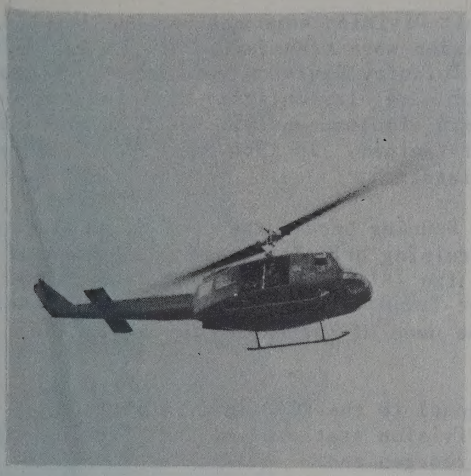
Appropriately enough, the decade of the 60's began with the dedication of the world famous Infantryman Statue which now guards the entrance of the Infantry Center and School headquarters. This event occurred in the spring of 1960 with the assembly of several hundred dignitaries, including President Dwight D. Eisenhouwer, at "Project Man," an event held to review equipment needs for a modern Army. The renowned statue was then located near the Officer Candidate area (it was moved to its present location in 1964).

On 24 September 1962 the 197th Infantry Brigade (Separate), the largest and most diversified infantry brigade in the U.S. Army, was reactivated with the mission of: "Providing instructional support for the United States Army Infantry School, general support of the USAIC, and the maintenance of operational capability to carry out specific contingency plans." On 7 April 1968, soldiers of the brigade were deployed for riot control duty in Baltimore, Maryland. Order was quickly restored without a shot being fired.

In February 1963 the 11th Air Assault Division was formed at Fort Benning to test the air assault concept. The concept was the result of a study that was ordered by Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara. Basically its purpose was to utilize helicopters in order to provide the Army with increased mobility and flexibility while in combat. The concept was to prove to be one of the most influential to be developed in 20th Century warfare. Its value was to be repeatedly proven during the Vietnam conflict.



Once again the OCS Program was expanded in the 1960's to meet the demand for officers during the Vietnam conflict.



The air assault concept was tested at Fort Benning - in the early 1960's. The concept was to prove to be one of the most influential in 20th Century warfare.

On 3 July 1965 the colors of the 11th Air Assault Division were retired and its personnel along with members of the 2d Infantry Division were transferred to the 1st Cavalry Division (Airmobile). The colors of the 2d Infantry Division were sent to Korea. The new division possessed four times the aircraft of a regular infantry division and had the capability of airlifting one third of its strength simultaneously. On 18 August 1965, the 1st Cavalry Division deployed to the Republic of Vietnam. In 1966 the 199th Infantry Brigade organized, trained, and deployed to South Vietnam.

The Vietnam expansion took many forms and Fort Benning became the home of an Army Training Center in September 1965. Initially two training brigades moved into the Sand Hill and Harmony Church areas which were vacated by the 1st Cavalry Division. A third brigade was added in April 1966. The mission of the Training Center was to provide basic combat training to new recruits. The Center met the need of our expanding Army. The Infantry Center grew.

In 1963, when the Army changed from the Pentagonal to the ROAD (Reorganization Objective Army Division) concept, the 2d Infantry Division stationed at Fort Benning was the first infantry division in the U.S. Army to be reorganized.

In June of 1964 the Infantry School acquired a new home on Fort Benning when it moved to Infantry Hall (Bldg 4). The new building which was constructed at a cost of approximately 10 million dollars was an ultra modern six story structure designed to house the staff and faculty of the Infantry School as well as the academic classrooms. Infantry Hall, as it is now named, was equipped with the most modern conveniences such as air-conditioned classrooms and closed circuit television to assist in instruction. Progressive analysis and experimentation continued.

As the troop buildup continued in Vietnam, once again the Officer Candidate School was expanded. The peak of the expansion came in Fiscal Year 1967 when over 8,000 candidates (65 classes) were commissioned as second lieutenants.

The Light Anti-tank Weapon (LAW) became part of the Infantry Soldier's equipment in the early 1960's.

During the 1960's much of the training at the Infantry School was designed to acquaint the student with the techniques of the Viet Cong.

A new concept was conceived at the Infantry School when it was discovered that the Vietnam conflict was rapidly deminishing the Army's supply of junior noncommissioned officers. In order to meet this demand for qualified, junior leaders, the Noncommissioned Officer Candidate Course was created. Two battalions formerly committed to the OCS program were entrusted with this new responsibility on 8 September 1967. The NCO Candidate Course consisted of 12 weeks of intensive instruction in subjects such as leadership, communications, small unit tactics, patrolling and indirect fire support. Upon graduation from the course, an individual was promoted to sergeant or staff sergeant (depending on his class standing) and sent to training centers to gain on-the-job training prior to deployment to Vietnam.

As the 1960's came to an end, the role of the United States Army in Vietnam began to decline and once again the Infantry School found itself having to quickly revise its instruction, techniques and ideas to meet the new challenge of the 1970's and a peacetime army.

In June 1964 the Infantry School acquired a new home at Infantry Hall (Building 4)

CHAPTER 8

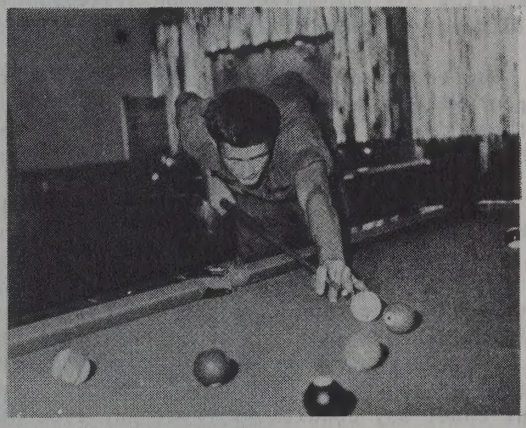
POST VIETNAM - AN ERA OF NEW IDEAS

Upon the completion of combat activities by the United States in the Republic of Vietnam, the Infantry School and Fort Benning once again found themselves rapidly phasing down their activities as well as shifting the major emphasis in training and doctrine to more conventional warfare.

In March 1970 the U.S. Army Training Center at Fort Benning was officially closed, and the OCS program began to be reduced in the summer of 1970.

Also in 1970 the VOLAR concept (Volunteer Army) saw the Army training return to the basics--the duty day of the soldier at Fort Benning and elsewhere throughout the combat arms in the Army began to free the soldier to do his soldiering under his sergeant--action was taken to transmit the message to the soldier that he was a man and he was going to be treated like a man as long as he performed. Fort Benning was selected as one of three test sites for VOLAR concept because it was the Home of the Infantry and the record showed that most personnel drafted into the Armed Forces had to be drafted into the combat arms--if one could succeed in developing first class professional volunteer units in the vanguard of the combat arms, the Queen of Battle, the Infantry, then certainly, one could conclude it could be done in the non-combat arms and in the supporting services where the opportunity to learn high technical skills (that are marketable on the civilian market after service) are readily available. Along with VOLAR a new emphasis was placed on Race Relations activities during the 1970's. In January 1970, Co C, 1st Bn (Mechanized), 58th Infantry of the 197th Infantry Brigade became the first all volunteer unit in the U.S. Army.

Under the VOLAR program the troops were permitted to personally arrange their barracks space to suit their individual interest.



The VOLAR program placed a greater selection of leisure recreation facilities in the troop barracks.

The NCOC program which had been instrumental in providing junior NCO's during the Vietnam conflict was replaced by the Noncommissioned Officer Education System in 1972. The mission of the new program was to establish a professional development program for career NCO's.

Also in the early 1970's, the OCS program was revised. The new program, called the Branch Immaterial Officer Candidate Course, was 12 weeks in duration and trained individuals for commissioning in all branches of the Army. Upon completion graduates were commissioned second lieutenants and sent to the appropriate branch schools for basic branch training.

The increased role of women in the US Army was illustrated when the first women graduated from the Basic Airborne Course in December 1973.

During the Vietnam Era much emphasis had been placed on insurgency and counterinsurgency. Now it was necessary once again to shift the trend towards the development of conventional warfare doctrine.

The latest war in the Middle East caused intensive study to be devoted to the concepts of Mechanized Infantry and antiarmor.

Particular emphasis has been directed toward the development and employment doctrine of the Mechanized Infantry Combat Vehicle (MICV), the TOW and the Dragon (antitank missile systems). Training programs for these and other weapons systems are being closely coordinated at the School.

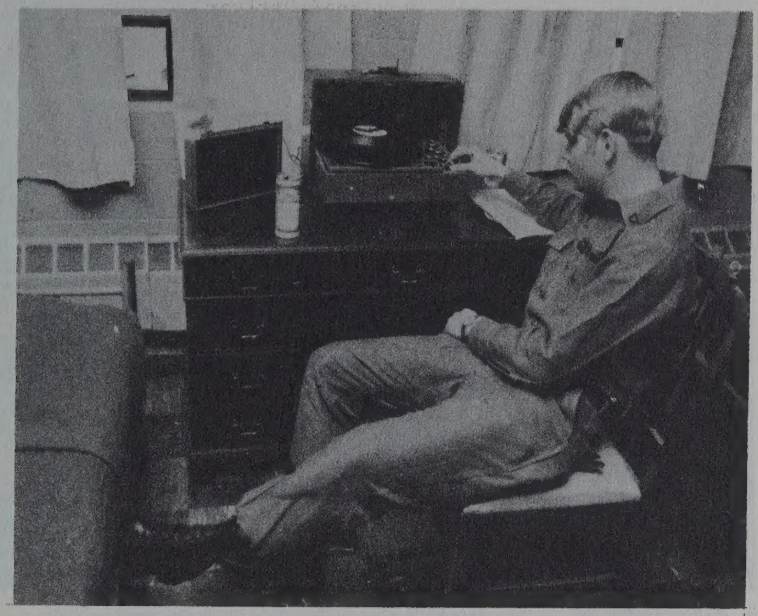
The continued refinement of the airmobile concept has been particularly emphasized in the post Vietnam Era. Work has also continued on the development of the Utility Tactical Transport Aircraft System (UTTAS) and the Advanced Attack Helicopter (AAH). A major change in organizational structure occurred when the Airborne Department was reorganized as the Airborne/Airmobility Department. The new department assumed all responsibility for teaching, coordinating, and testing of both airborne and airmobile doctrine.

Maximum mobility will be offered the Infantry on the ground by the MICV and in the air by the UTTAS. Mechanized Infantry operations will be greatly enhanced by the MICV possessing the Bushmaster weapon systems. The UTTAS will have the capability of airlifting one complete combat loaded Infantry rifle squad into the battle area.

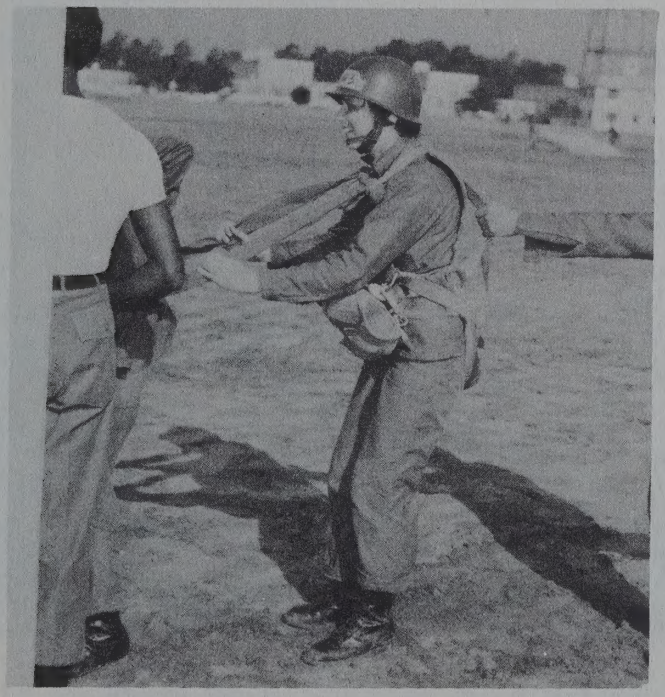
Due to the identified armor threat in future conflicts, the TOW and Dragon antitank weapon systems become increasingly more valuable to the Infantryman. The full potential of these deadly tank killers will be realized with the adaption of a thermal image night sight which will render them effective at full range under all conditions of visibility.

Other items of priority are: the development of a new squad automatic weapon, a new light weight mortar, a light weight laser range finder, and a hand held thermal viewer.

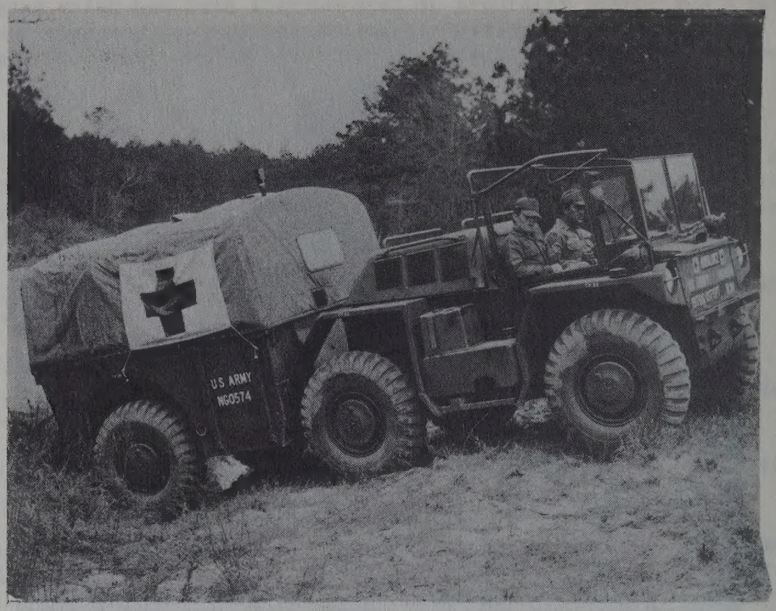
Lessons learned from the most recent mid-east war, and from many other indicators prove beyond question that the key to victory in the modern battlefield is the well-trained, rapidly reacting combined arms team, with Infantry, Armor, Artillery, Air Support and every other combat element acting in precise concert. The Infantry is the critical element of that team, for only Infantry possesses the flexibility and responsiveness to fight under any conditions, over any type of terrain. The emphasis at Fort Benning today is to provide the men, and especially the leaders, who can function with precision and effectiveness as the cutting edge to the combined arms team. Tactical and technical proficiency, physical strength, mental toughness and spiritual awareness are the mandatory qualities of the Infantry leader. It is toward the development of these qualities in all Infantrymen that the Infantry Center of today is dedicated.



VOLAR soldier relaxes in the barracks after work



The increased role of women in the US Army could be denoted when the first women graduated from the Basic Airborne Course in 1974.



With the termination of the US Army's involvement in Vietnam many new items of equipment could be developed and tested.

The further development of the Dragon Antitank Missile System is of primary importance in the future.

I AM THE INFANTRY

I am the Infantry— Queen of Battle! For two centuries I have kept our Nation safe, purchasing freedom with my blood. To tyrants, I am the day of reckoning; to the suppressed, the hope for the future. Where the fighting is thick, there am I . . . I am the Infantry! FOLLOW ME!

I was there from the beginning, meeting the enemy face to face, will to will. My bleeding feet stained the snow at Valley Forge; my frozen hands pulled Washington across the Delaware. At Yorktown, the sunlight glinted from the sword and I, begrimed and battered . . . saw a Nation born.

Hardship . . . and glory I have known. At New Orleans, I fought beyond the hostile hour, showed the fury of my long rifle . . . and came of age. I am the Infantry!

Westward I pushed with wagon trains . . . moved an empire across the plains . . . extended freedom's borders and tamed the wild frontier. I am the Infantry! FOLLOW ME!

I was with Scott at Vera Cruz . . . hunted the guerrilla in the mountain passes . . . and scaled the high plateau. The fighting was done when I ended my march many miles from the old Alamo.

From Bull Run to Appomattox, I fought and bled. Both Blue and Grey were my colors then. Two masters I served and united them strong . . . proved that this nation could right a wrong . . . and long endure. I am the Infantry! FOLLOW ME!

I led the charge up San Juan Hill . . . scaled the walls of old Tientsin . . . and stalked the Moro in the steaming jungle still . . . always the vanguard. I am the Infantry!

At Chateau-Thierry, first over the top, then I stood like a rock on the Marne. It was I who cracked the Hindenburg Line . . . in the Argonne, I broke the Kaiser's spine . . . and didn't come back till it was "over, over there." I am the Infantry! FOLLOW ME!

A generation older at Bataan, I briefly bowed, but then I vowed to return. Assaulted the African shore . . . learned my lesson the hard way in the desert sands . . . pressed my buttons into the beach at Anzio . . . and bounced into Rome with determination and resolve. I am the Infantry!

The English channel, stout beach defenses and the hedgerows could not hold me . . . I broke out at St Lo, unbent the Bulge . . . vaulted the Rhine . . . and swarmed the Heartland. Hitler's dream and the Third Reich were dead.

In the Pacific, from island to island I hopped . . . hit the beaches and chopped through swamp and jungle . . . I set the Rising Sun. I am the Infantry!

In Korea, I gathered my strength around Pusan . . . swept across the frozen Han . . . outflanked the Reds at Inchon . . . and marched to the Yalu. FOLLOW ME!

Around the world, I stand . . . ever forward. Over Lebanon's sands, my rifle steady aimed . . . and calm returned. At Berlin's gate, I scorned the Wall of Shame. I am the Infantry!

My bayonet . . . on the wings of power . . . keeps the peace worldwide. And despots, falsely garbed in freedom's mantle, falter . . . hide. My ally in the paddies and the forest . . . I teach, I aid, I lead. FOLLOW ME!

Where brave men fight . . . there fight I. In freedom's cause . . . I live, I die. From Concord Bridge to Heartbreak Ridge, from the Arctic to the Mekong . . . the Queen of Battle!

Always ready . . . then, now and forever. I am the Infantry! FOLLOW ME!

I AM THE INFANTRY

I am the Infantry— Queen of Battle! For two centuries I have kept our Nation safe, purchasing freedom with my blood. To tyrants, I am the day of reckoning; to the suppressed, the hope for the future. Where the fighting is thick, there am I . . . I am the Infantry! FOLLOW ME!

I was there from the beginning, meeting the enemy face to face, will to will. My bleeding feet stained the snow at Valley Forge; my frozen hands pulled Washington across the Delaware. At Yorktown, the sunlight glinted from the sword and I, begrimed and battered . . . saw a Nation born.

Hardship . . . and glory I have known. At New Orleans, I fought beyond the hostile hour, showed the fury of my long rifle . . . and came of age. I am the Infantry!

Westward I pushed with wagon trains . . . moved an empire across the plains . . . extended freedom's borders and tamed the wild frontier. I am the Infantry! FOLLOW ME!

I was with Scott at Vera Cruz . . . hunted the guerrilla in the mountain passes . . . and scaled the high plateau. The fighting was done when I ended my march many miles from the old Alamo.

From Bull Run to Appomattox, I fought and bled. Both Blue and Grey were my colors then. Two masters I served and united them strong . . . proved that this nation could right a wrong . . . and long endure. I am the Infantry! FOLLOW ME!

I led the charge up San Juan Hill . . . scaled the walls of old Tientsin . . . and stalked the Moro in the steaming jungle still . . . always the vanguard. I am the Infantry!

At Chateau-Thierry, first over the top, then I stood like a rock on the Marne. It was I who cracked the Hindenburg Line . . . in the Argonne, I broke the Kaiser's spine . . . and didn't come back till it was "over, over there." I am the Infantry! FOLLOW ME!

A generation older at Bataan, I briefly bowed, but then I vowed to return. Assaulted the African shore . . . learned my lesson the hard way in the desert sands . . . pressed my buttons into the beach at Anzio . . . and bounced into Rome with determination and resolve. I am the Infantry!

The English channel, stout beach defenses and the hedgerows could not hold me . . . I broke out at St Lo, unbent the Bulge . . . vaulted the Rhine . . . and swarmed the Heartland. Hitler's dream and the Third Reich were dead.

In the Pacific, from island to island I hopped . . . hit the beaches and chopped through swamp and jungle . . . I set the Rising Sun. I am the Infantry!

In Korea, I gathered my strength around Pusan . . . swept across the frozen Han . . . outflanked the Reds at Inchon . . . and marched to the Yalu. FOLLOW ME!

Around the world, I stand . . . ever forward. Over Lebanon's sands, my rifle steady aimed . . . and calm returned. At Berlin's gate, I scorned the Wall of Shame. I am the Infantry!

My bayonet . . . on the wings of power . . . keeps the peace worldwide. And despots, falsely garbed in freedom's mantle, falter . . . hide. My ally in the paddies and the forest . . . I teach, I aid, I lead. FOLLOW ME!

Where brave men fight . . . there fight I. In freedom's cause . . . I live, I die. From Concord Bridge to Heartbreak Ridge, from the Arctic to the Mekong . . . the Queen of Battle!

Always ready . . . then, now and forever. I am the Infantry! FOLLOW ME!

not Mrs.

Dear Vivian:

My apologies for the delay in answering your letter, but have waited for my son Ritch McCutchen to come home from Lubbock, Tex. He has all the deeds, etc. in a safety deposit box in Cordele. I have talked to him by phone & he says there is no "grant" with the deeds. Ritch & Charles have a cotton business in Lubbock & this has been a busy season for them. They both flew to Huntsville, Ala. for a McCutchen reunion Thanksgiving, but left the next day.

My mother told us about the three graves being [redacted] (my great-grandfather,) his wife (name unknown + a child.) None of the three graves were marked by name nor date. I have seen them. I cannot find anyone with pictures of my grandfather, Emanuel nor his wife Sarah Jane. I do have one other source to check & will let you know about that.

Thanks for the picture of you and Dan. Of course, it has been a few years since I saw Dan, but I believe he resembles himself as a child. Tell me about Polly-
Look forward to seeing you next summer & we'll tour cemeteries.

Sincerely,
Elizabeth Mc.

Hello Again, Vivian--

I forgot to ask this question in the last message. You cite a twenty-seven page document by John M. Helms which names the children of David Ritch. These names certainly have the ring of truth to them. But the thing is--I have a John M. Helms as the son of Miles and Cordelia Frances Brown Helms., Sr. John was born 2 Apr 1850. I assume that either this John M. or a descendant of his was the author of this twenty-seven page document. Does the document name the other children of Miles Helms, Sr. and their descendants? If so, I would really love to see it. Is it possible for you to photocopy the document and mail it to me? I'd be more than happy to pay the expenses. If this isn't possible, could you look for a Leander as a child of Miles and Cordelia and give me what it says about him and his descendants? I would really appreciate it.

Maybe I can return the favor somehow. I certainly hope so.

Lucinda Wyatt, is the way I read this gals last name in the 1850 census that is listed with the children Wm. and Mary next door to Emanuel. Wonder if it could be Hyatt? (Height?) Hannah, dau of David Ritch m a Height. Interesting. Hope this answers some of the questions. VJ

Hi, Vivian--

Good to hear from you. I think we have a few wires crossed here, so I'll just go through some of the things you wrote in your last message and add my comments and/or additions as I go along. I think that's the easiest way to get through this.

Who is supposed to be buried on the old Fort Benning...practice range--David or Emanuel? If David is buried there, how is it that he died in Wilkes County, a good 225 miles or so from the Fort Benning area?

The tombstones have quite a bit of bullet damage and if you have ever

I have heard--and that is what I've been trying to verify--that a Susannah HELMS married David Ritch. That would tie the two famlies together before David's daughter Anna married Allen Helms. So far, no luck.

Apparently, there is some confusion here. I didn't ask this question. I already have this information. In fact, I think I sent you information concerning the 1880 Harris County census and the fact that Leander's father Miles Helms was living in Harris County, GA at that time and that Leander, the youngest child of Sophia (who died 19 Jul 1876) was living in his household. Leander Helms (Sophia's husband) and his second wife Laura /Unknown/ are also in Harris County in 1880. In his household are two children by Sophia--George and Amanda Helms.

See above. Leander Helms (Sophia's husband) was the son of Miles Helms. The name Leander may indeed have come from the Ritch family.

Is this what you meant to say above--that David died in Muscogee County, GA? That

Hello Again, Vivian--

Now, I've got a few very specific questions to ask, if you don't mind. No rush. I would just like to get this information in the old database if possible.

1. First, David RITCH: Do you have any dates and places for David, e.g., birth, death, burial, marriage, etc.? Do you have the specifics on the Will in Muscogee County? Do you have any children other than Emanuel and Anna for David?

2. Emanuel RITCH: Do you have any dates and places for Emanuel and his wife Sarah Ann GILMORE--e.g., birth, death, burial, marriage, etc. What about Emanuel's Will---any specifics? Do you have any children other than Thomas Jefferson RITCH?

3. Thomas J. RITCH: Do you have the date and place of Thomas' death and burial? What about the date of his marriage to Julia HARRIS? Diid they have any children other than Nona Thomas RITCH?

Okay. So that should hold be for awhile. Thanks for all your help, Vivian.

I really don't know much about the RITCH family, Vivian. I became interested in them only because of their connection to the HELMS family and, as you know, two of George Boswell's daughters married HELMS boys. Then, when I noticed that we had another ancestor (Daniel Evans BOSWELL) who married a RITCH, I wrote and asked you if there was any connection between that RITCH and the HELMS boys who married the two BOSWELL girls. You then gave me the connection between Emanuel and David RITCH. So: right now, my database contains only David RITCH (perhaps married to Susannah HELMS) and two of his children--Anna (and her marriage to Allen HELMS) and Emanuel (and his marriage to Sarah Anne GILMORE). I also have Thomas Jefferson RITCH, the son of Emanuel and Sarah Anne, and his marriage to Julia A. HARRIS. And, finally, I have the daughter of Thomas Jefferson RITCH and Julia A. HARRIS, Nona Frances RITCH, who married Daniel Evans BOSWELL. That's about it. And I have very few dates to tie these things together. The HELMS family is another matter. I have a good bit of stuff on them, which I have picked up from several HELMS researchers.

You're right about that. I guess old David is just about as dead as anybody else who is already dead. I just got a bit confused about the fact that he died so far away from where he wound up buried. Your explanation clarifies things a lot.

Hi Walter: Haven't forgotten you just been running around like the well known chicken with its head cut off. Years ago, I compiled my families records into chart form and gave it to each of our three daughters. Now I got the brilliant idea to do the same for their paternal side of the family. Mainly on the Ritch side. and so I put in some queries on a few of the woman's surnames that I didn't have a thing on and low and behold I hit a jackpot. Found a cuz from Thomas Jefferson Ritch (our line) who knows a bit more that I do and as often happens, I knew some things that he didn't. Got a chuckle out of the turmoil that this researcher had in trying to fit in a 'Cliff' into his records. My hubby's mother was SUPPOSED to be a boy, so she was named Clifford Allene Boswell. This researcher didn't have near the trouble that Dan had in all the different bases that the army switched him too during the WAR. All the forms would come back, at every base. Please fill out your MOTHER's name!!!

So you see, I have some news for you. Emanuel's father was David Ritch b in NC and died in Wilkes Co., GA. (according to Larry Ritch, David was b Meck.Co. NC. and d 1847 in Wilkes Co., GA. Supposedly buried on the old Ritch burying ground that now is part of Fort Benning artillery practice range. The tombstones have quite a bit of bullet damage and if you have ever been there, many, many empty cartridge cases are littering the ground. There are four unmarked graves, so we can only assume that David is buried there. Nothing at this time is known of his wife.

I'm having the devil of a time keeping the David's separated. David Evans; David Ritch; David Boswell. Eeeeks!

You asked who was Sophia Louise Boswell who m Leander Helms. I have it that she was the dau of George Boswell b 1811 and Caroline Bates b 1813.

The Larry Ritch that I think I mentioned previously, sent me his chart (1983) of his findings on the Ritch family but with only the first names of the male, no dates or places. There is a Leander Franklin Ritch with a son named Leander W. I no longer have an address for Larry Ritch.

I also have a hand printed 27 page document sent by John M. Helms in 1979 where he says that David Ritch b 1774-1784 in Mecklenberg Co., NC and d 1847 in Muscogee Co., GA. He lists the ch/ David as -Anna, Hannah, Edward, Holly, J. Jefferson, Emanuel, William A., Mary.. He then takes Anna. who m Allen Helms , lists her children then goes on with Anna's dau, Lynda who m ""Blythe.; Archibald W m Martha J. ??? and two times more, Miles who m Cordelia Frances Brown, Celethiel who m Evelyn Mary Ann Lancaster, David Leroy who m Rebecca Ann Sanders and went to AL., and then jumps to Joseph Jefferson who m Harriet Ellen Howard. From here on, I would have to chart his papers before I could be sure that I had the right children to the correct parents. His numbering system lacks a great deal to say the least. He carries it well into the 20th century.

Now before I close this epistle, in trying to put this on to the computer...you gave me the list of children of David BATES and Echols. I had Anderson and a Randolph. Where does Randolph fit?? One of Anderson's other wives??

Another question. I got from someone, that David BATES' father was John and the wife was Chloe Maye!!! All for now hope that wasn't too confusing. Vivian would certainly make more sense if he is buried near Columbus.

>He lists the ch/ David as -Anna, Hannah, Edward, Holly,
> J. Jefferson, Emanuel, William A., Mary..

Thanks a lot, Vivian. I didn't have these names. All I have as the children of David are Anna and Emanuel. I'll check this information against information that I have seen from another Helms researcher and let you know if they agree.

>He then takes Anna. who m Allen

Okay, most of this agrees with my stuff. There are a few differences. First, I didn't have the name of Lynda's (Linda's) husband. Second, I have only Martha /Unknown/ as the wife of Archibald, whose middle initial, at least according to my records, was /A./, not /W/. Third, the spelling of Celethiel's wife's name is "Evilina", not "Evelyn", according to my sources. Finally, I do not have the name of David's wife and I have a date of death for him of 2 Nov 1863 in Marion County, GA. There is no mention of Alabama in my notes. (I don't know who Joseph Jefferson is--a Ritch or a Helms? Neither a Joseph Jefferon Ritch or a Joseph Jefferson Helms appears in my database.)

I don't understand what you're saying here. David BATES married Drucilla ECHOLS. They had several children. Among these children were John, Susannah, James, Fleming, Anderson, and Unity A. I have no Randolph listed as a son of David and Drucilla. Anderson Bates was married twice--first to Hannah EVANS (Caroline and Evans Echols Bates' mother) and second, to Jane COMBS. He had no wife named Randolph. Anderson and Jane Combs Bates had nine children, but none of them is named Randolph either.
> Another question. I got from someone, that David BATES' father was John and

That's right. David's father was John BATES and his mother was Chloe MAYES/MAYE. His grandparents were John and Elizabeth Alford Bates. This family goes back to the original immigrant John Bates, born 1598 in Kent County, England, and died 13 Mar 1666 in Middletown Parish, York County, VA. He was married to Elizabeth Winston, though her surname has not been proven.

Hello Again, Vivian--

I just noticed something about the marriage of your Daniel Evans BOSWELL to Nona Thomas RITCH, so I thought I'd touch a base or two with you concerning this RITCH family.

Did you know that there are two marriages in the George and Caroline Bates BOSWELL family to men named HELMS? Sarah Frances BOSWELL married William A. HELMS and Sophia Louise BOSWELL married Leander HELMS. Both William and Leander are the sons of Milus (Miles) HELMS and Cordelia Frances BROWN. Now, what makes this whole thing interesting is that Milus (Miles) HELMS is the son of Allen HELMS and Anna RITCH. Interestingly, both your Emanuel RITCH and the HELMS families (including Anna RITCH) come from NC. I don't know who the parents of Anna RITCH were, but I do know that Allen's father was named Tillman HELMS and that he moved to GA with his two sons (Allen and Andrew) and their families around 1835. I think Tillman also had a sister named Susannah Helms RITCH. I don't know how she figures into the mix, but she may well be Anna's mother. (As I understand it, these HELMS folks are given to marrying their cousins by the droves. :))

My question is--do you have any information on who the parents of this Emanuel RITCH, Nona's grandfather, may have been?

By the way, I have something else interesting concerning this matter. At the time Daniel's father, William BOSWELL (b.1834), was living in Harris County, Milus HELMS was also living there, and so was Sophia Louisa Boswell HELMS and her husband Leander. Sophia died 19 Jul 1876 and Leadner remarried, but he remained in Harris County with two of Sophia's children, George and Amanda (1880 census). I found Sophia's youngest child, Leander, in the home of his grandparents (Milus and Cordelia HELMS) also on the 1880 Harris County census. Ironically, this is the same census that shows Caroline Bates BOSWELL and two of her children in William's household. I don't know. Seems like a lot of coincidences to me

Vivian, before you go any further, let me correct a very serious misunderstanding. Anderson BATES was married to Hannah EVANS, not Hannah Harris. Hannah EVANS' mother was Mary HARRIS and her father was David EVANS. I know nothing of Mary Harris and her family, except that she was born abt. 1761 in VA and married David EVANS before 1782, also in VA. (I know what you mean about the HARRIS surname, however. My mother's father was a HARRIS and her mother was a SMITH, for Christ's sake! I've managed to trace my mother's roots back to my second great grandfather, but that's about it. Nothing on the SMITH side of the ball.)

But ot get back to matters at hand: David was born about 1760 in Bedford County, VA and died in Wilkes County, GA about 1807. David and Mary had nine children, three of whom married members of the same BATES family. Anderson married Hannah EVANS; John BATES married Sarah EVANS; and James BATES married Sophia EVANS. Rhoda EVANS also married a BATES--John Witt BATES, SR., but he was not a member of the same family to which the other BATES siblings belong. (He becomes important to us, however, because his daughter Susan married John Walker BOSWELL, George BOSWELL's brother. Susan, of course, was our Caroline's first cousin.)

Anderson, John, and James were the sons of David BATES and Drucilla ECHOLS. David and Drucilla also had a son named Fleming and two daughters named Susannah and Unity. Susannah married a James JOHNSON and Unity married Matthew BATES, Anderson's cousin. (You might know also that David BATES was a rather well-known politician of his time, having served first in the Virginia House of Burgess and then later in the Georgia legislature. His picture hangs in the Georgia State Capitol, or so I am told.)

David and Mary Harris EVANS' children were: Arden, William, Jesse, Sarah, Elizabeth, Hannah, Sophia, Susannah, and Rhoda--all apparently minors at the time of David's death in 1807.

Yes, the "Records of Thirteen Families" has been an invaluable help; however, most of my information concerning the link between Anderson, Hannah, and the Boswells comes from my own investigation. For a long time, it was believed that Anderson married Hannah's sister Sophia, not Hannah; however, when Arden Evans, the son of David and Mary Harris Evans died in 1861, he left a Will naming his nephew Evans Echols BATES. That, of course, is Anderson's only son by Hannah. Arden also states in the Will that Evans Echols is the son of his sister Hannah. Then, I got in touch with a descendant of Jane COMBS and Anderson BATES who had an old family Bible, presumably Anderson's, that said as much. Anderson, I suppose you know already, is buried in Plains, Sumter County, GA. I still don't know where Jane or Caroline is buried. I do know, however, that Jane is connected in some way to the COMBS family that also married into the EVANS family in Wilkes County. I don't know how yet. (By the way, the Arden EVANS Will mentions a lot of our folks, including Caroline Bates BOSWELL and some of her children. I don't remember which ones at the moment.)

Okay, so that's enough for now. I'll try to figure out how to get some more information to you. I don't use FTM. I use Cumberland Family Tree for Windows. It's a lot easier for me to deal with because of my eyesight--or lack thereof. But I'll figure something out. In the meantime, the EVANS material in the A. Evans Wynn book is extensive and covers all the EVANS immigrants to Wilkes County to whom we are related, including our David's father and mother, Arden and Susannah

Ball EVANS. Arden also moved to Georgia, where he died after 1784. There were five sons born to this family: William, Arden, David, Thomas, and Elijah. William, David, and Elijah moved to Wilkes County Georgia, and the "Thirteen Records" covers all three very thoroughly, especially William and his descendants.

I'll wait to hear from you again.

Hi, Vivian--

It's really nice to hear from you. I guess I'll have to change addresses more often.

Are you kidding? I have as much--perhaps more--stuff on the EVANS family as I have on the BOSWELLs. It has been my experience that you can always tell the wealthy relatives from the poor ones--the poor ones name all their kids after the wealthy ones. Such is the case with the BOSWELL and EVANS families. The name EVANS persists in our family right on down to my grandfather's generation. He had a brother named Walter Evans Boswell and another named Eugene Evans. Even his father was named James Evans. (James Evans Boswell, you might recall, was the son of your William Boswell's older brother John Anderson Boswell (my third great grandfather).

Anderson BATES married first Hannah EVANS, the daughter of David and Mary Harris EVANS. David and two or three of his brothers (I forget which offhand) originally came from Bedford County, Virginia. They owned a great deal of land in and around Kettle Creek, Wilkes County, GA. Some of them founded Mercer University in Georgia and some moved on to Monroe County, Mississippi, etc.. I would be happy to answer any questions you have about these folks, if I can. I assume that Daniel Evans Boswell was named after his great grandmother Hannah or perhaps one of his aunts, who also bore the EVANS name or names--Susan Evans Boswell, Sophia Louisa Boswell. etc.. Of course, there was also an uncle--Evans Eugene Boswell and a grand uncle (the son of Anderson Bates and Hannah Evans, my third great grandmother Caroline BATES' brother). Evans Echols BATES. Not to mention, of course, a thousand and one EVANS cousins. The EVANS family is a really interesting one and there is a great deal of material out there on them, including a wonderful book by A. Evans Wynn called "Records of Thirteen Families...." If I can be of any help concerning our relationship to this bunch, please let me know.

At any rate, it's awfully good to hear from you, Vivian. Please keep in touch.

Dear John:

I'm glad to know that someone saw my query! Haven't heard a thing from anyone. So disappointing, but then time will tell.

The Rich Family Assoc., Inc. Box 142, Wellfleet, Mass. 02667. I've dropped my subscription. There w,s really nothing that interested me. I got a query in and some information about the Rich Family that their geneologist promptly put in all wrong!! I sent a correction, but never did see a correction, in print.

I remembered what you had written about Archibald Ritch, just wanted to see if anyone else had heard of him.

Found this the other month or so, in Anson Co. N. C. Index to Deeds-Grantors--1748-1962.

David Ritchie-grantor to John Helms--9 Nov 1808. Deed Book N & O pg. 445. Land located adj. to Bennetts place.

I shall check the Mecklenberg Co. wills for your David and Arch Helms. and let you know if I find anything.

No we haven't been back to Georgia in years. Ah, to be rich and retire and go where I want and stay as long as I want! Would love to live in Molena and then I could do research to my hearts content

Almost forgot, In one of your letters quite some time ago, you said that 'James Helmes left Ga. for Texas'. 1900????

Guess I found him in the 1880/Census of Tex. in Mansfield, where the Boswells were. #237-238 James Helms 46 b. Ga. N. C. - Ga.
Jane 49 b. Na.C. Ireland, & N.C.
with children--didn't list them!! (I didn't, I mean)

They are about 15 houses away from the Boswells!

Also a Happy hunting.

Dear Vivian

Was nice to see you once again in Family Puzzlers! I'm home today, and your inquiry prompted me to go to the library — and also to look back over some of my records. Now I'm wondering if I included everything which may be of some use to us, in past mail sent you —

Did I send you, or have you seen the 1800 Mecklenburg Co N.C. census? It has the following:

John Ritchie 21010 - 20010
James Ritchie 01101 - 02001 — One of them Anna — the other could be mother of the Blyth children Anna & Allen raised —
David Ritchie 00100 - 20100

LEGEND: 1 (MALES) 2 3 4 5 — (FEMALES REPEATED)

UNDER 10 10-16 16-26 26-45 OVER 45

The 1810 census only shows Daniel Ritch 00100/00100
No Ritch's are in 1820 census.

Also, in some of the material I sent you, mention is made of an Archibald Ritch who was involved in a property transaction in Talbot Co in 1837. I think possibly he was David's brother, and maybe Arch Helms was named after him.

Do you have access to Mecklenburg Co N.C. wills??
If so please check for names of David and Arch!

Wonder if John or James Ritchie were Rev War soldiers? I just don't have records here to check on them -

I come upon this old Boswell will record which may be of interest to you.

When have you been to Ga? I'm still going about every 3 to 4 weeks.

Best regards to you all and please excuse this "botched up" letter. I hope next time I'll have a little more to write you!

Sincerely
John Helms

Dear Vivian and Dan,

It surely was nice to hear from you folks again - and thanks so very much for the reference material - I'll follow through and also pass on to a Helm friend up in Omak Washington!

I must confess I've done little researching this year, and most of it on my wife's and mother's lines. I was fortunate to find my 3 gr grandparents, (Daniel Parker and wife's graves) in old Parker cemetery east of Thomaston, or did I tell you?! Anyway, he was Daniel Parker, a Rev War soldier, and is mentioned in the book on Upson Co. TN. I go thru Thomaston quite often on my trips back & forth and am always reminded of you folks when I see those signs pointing to Molena!

Oh yes, there is one bit of info I have for you: Archibald Helms b Dec 19, 1817, d Nov 1, 1898 and his wife Mary Jane b Dec 12, 1829, d Oct 31, 1862 are buried in the Woodland Ga cemetery and graves are marked with nice monument. I'd somehow missed it several yrs ago —

Vivian, you once offered me the address of the Rich family Association - you may have mailed later but for the life of me I can't find now. I'd certainly appreciate it! Also, did you mail them the info I mailed you? If not, I'll be sure to do so soon as possible —

Thanks again for writing. I'll try and be a better correspondent in the future, also try and do some looking for Boswells and other of your lines. Sincerely John Helms

Dear John:

I'm sorry to be so late in answering your letter of June 2, 1977, but guess an operation is a pretty good excuse, isn't it? But I've gone back to work, so it no longer holds.

My husband enjoyed talking to you while I was in the hospital and he made a list of the things that you wanted. So I shall go done the line and try to answer as best I can.

The Rich Family Assoc. periodical is called 'KINFOLK'. P.O.Box 142, Wellfleet, Mass. 02667. Mrs. Julia Rich Hogan is their 'genealogist'--address 15 Hampshire Street, Everett Ma. 02149. I ordered her American Beginnings of the Rich Family Vol. V. You might find it interesting. It seems to be a hodge-podge of information that has been sent to her through the years and she has loosly grouped things together. Our line is represented by the info that I sent her years ago and I've just recently updated and corrected it with the information that you snet--on David Ritch. But it is a way of contacting a large number of people at one writing. As soon as I can, I'm sending, for publication, copies of the Ritch Bible that I have--it might spark some of the southern Rich-Ritch people to write in with some information.

I was at the Mormon Branch Library earlier today, see what I do on my day off??--I had ordered Harris Co. Ga. Court of Ordinary--Inventory and Arpraisements--Book U #58 1882-1889. I was looking for McCullohs. Found my Dempsey P. McCullohs along with my William Boswell buying different things from the estate of Samuel Turrentine- who died 23 Sept 1883. Also I jotted these down for what is worth--

Miles Helms-bought Syrup keg 25¢
Chas. Helms-bought 1 spider(?) 45¢
Rich Helms-bought 2 wash tubs 65¢
John Helms-bought small box of iron tools 30¢
William Reedy-bought sheets-$1.25

I shall try to get my Boswell and Jordan records together soon and send them to you. Didn't I sned you a complete 5 gen. chart on both lines?

Must get this off to you. I do appreciate your Helms records. I've now started a Helms-Ritch folder!

Sincerely,

Dear Vivian and Dan,

Thanks so very much for your nice letter and all the material! Sorry to have waited so long to answer but seemed I'd never find time to copy this material. I decided it was too much of a job to ask of you & also I wanted a copy in this form ~~also~~ myself.

No, I wasn't aware of the Ritch books nor had I heard of Mrs Hogan. I'd be very pleased to get on the "Kinfolk" mailing list and to share what info I come up with, with her.

I haven't had a chance to check into Dan's Jordans and Boswells but will do what I can in the future. Also I'll keep an eye out for Helms Harris.

Regarding Celathiel's letters, he brought it, and others home with him when he was on furlough from Savannah. The letter you have was written in 1863 — a typists' error on your copy.

You asked about my info on David Ritch - I first found the Muscogee Co will, then started looking for him in the Mecklenburg Co N.C. censuses.

I hope you can decipher my records! I've found it is a very interesting way to index them. I'd appreciate just anything else you may have, and in the meantime I'll try to dig up something more.

I'm at work and must go —

Sincerely,
John Helms

Dear Mrs Jordan,

I was pleased to find your query in Family Puzzlers and I hope we will be able to share some information on the Ritch family in the future ~~with you~~.

Emmanuel Ritch is a brother of my gr gr grandmother Anna Ritch Helms, who migrated to Georgia (Talbot Co) in 1836. She and family lived in Talbot, Marion, and Harris counties. The last account I have of her is the 1870 Harris Co census. I think she and husband are buried in the Waverly Hall cemetery, but graves are not marked.

I am inclosing a copy of the will of David Ritch, Emmanuel's father. It is my opinion that he and most of his family lived in a part of Muscogee Co that later became Chattahoochee Co. About all I know of his decendants outside Anna's, are some decendants of Mary, and they are still living near the Marion-Chattahoochee-Muscogee Co liner.

I am inclosing some notes which may be of some interest to you. From them, it appears that Archibald Ritch is a close relative of David's, but I have nothing on him. I might add that Anna's oldest son was named Archibald.

In the event you haven't found them in N.C., I'll list the following:

Dear Mr. Helms or should I say Cousin?

It really appears that you and my husband are kin-more ways than one, I might add! Thank you so much for taking the time and effort to send me all your notes. I must confess I haven't really had a moment to myself to sit down and really think things through-with your notes & mine in front of me, but I sure intend to, believe me.

Are you familiar with the Rich Family Assoc.? If not, I'll send you the address, if you are interested. I've written to Julia Rich Hogan, telling her of your information. I'm sure she will be very interested. They put antean excellent little magazine called 'Kinfolk'. Julia has written several Volumes on the Rich,Ritch,Reich,Ritchie,etc. from all over the nation. Her southern branch information is very sparse so perhaps we can help with that.

I'm enclosing a chart of the Jordan/Boswell Family. Please note #30. Helms Harris who married a Fuller. This information was given to me by my mother-in-law and she was right about so much of the family, her line as well as her husbands' Jordan line. But I've never found a 'Helms' Harris with a dau. Julia b. 1845. Have you?

Also enclosed is the family chart on Thomas Jefferson Ritch, with the names more complete than what you had from the 1850 census.

Your listing of Talbot Co. marriages gave me a start. William A. Helms m. J. Boswell.....John Helms m. Rosannah Reedy-there are Reedys in my husbands Boswell line somewhere, I'll have to dig it out.

I would really like to have your Anna's line. You never know when you might pick up a clue. I'd really appreciate it. Send it in what ever form you like, but don't send anything that you want right back, for I'm a working gal and I have to snatch my genealogy time where ever I an find it. I work 6 days a week helping other people find their ances.!! I'm a librarian with the Houston Public Library and work at Clayton Lib. the genealogical division of the Main Library. So, I'll get your material back to you, don't worry, but how soon is the question.

Our name, altho spelled Jordan, is pronounced Jourdan. So your James Madison Jourdan could very well be one of mine. Do you have anything else on him? My Jordan line is at a brick wall, and has been for some years.

Your remarks about Manual being a trader is a fair statement. I'm beginning to wonder about him. In his will he doesn't even mention his eldest son, Thomas Jefferson Ritch. And Thomas J. and wife are buried in Atlanta, while the rest of the Emanual Ritch family is buried in Muscogee Co. Wonder if they had a falling out?

Has your information on David Ritch been just from Census and his will....or what?

I'd best close this and get on with the family group sheet before I go to sleep!!

Thanks again,

I sure hope you and Dan are enjoying this nice winter weather. We ain't never seen nothin' like this one!

Vivian, I am enclosing a genealogy of William A.

21 March 1982

Dear John:

I'm trying to play 'catch up' with my correspondence. Please forgive the delay in thanking you for the Helm information. I did manage a letter to Hazel Helms Hardy, because Dan knew a Hazel Hardy, but I don't believe this is the one he knew. Anyway, haven't heard from her yet.

Isn't it a shame though to put all that work into a compilation of that sort and not put any places!!! I was going to place it in the Library General Information File but I can't until it can be made a little more useful to someone. If you can fill in the places, do so, and I'll be happy to put it in the library so that it might give someone else a little help or they could help you folks!

I've not accomplished a thing on the Ritch line. We did go to Ga. for Xmas and had a wonderful time. It had been 7 years since I had been there. Dan had been back for quick trips, funerals, etc. but I hadn't. The timing was perfect. For the first time in 37 years of marriage, we didn't have chick nor child in town, so I said that I was going, didn't care of Dan went or not (he hates cold weather) but he did go.and we did have a good time in Atlanta for a night and ½ day, then the whole Boswell tribe went to Molena. We stayed in Atlanta, with one of Dans' Aunts, who passed on two weeks later! In Molena we stayed with anotherAunt the last of the Boswell family. With the Holidays, of course I could't do any genealogy, but I sure talked a lot!!

If I can save enough money, I hope to do some traveling in the early fall of this year, to the east coast. So here's hoping that all my plans materialize.

Keep in touch.

Sincerely,
John Helms

Dear John:

I'm trying to bring 'up-to-date' with my correspondence. Please forgive the delay in fulfilling your request for the Helm information. I did manage a letter to Hazel Helms Hardy because Dan knew a Hazel Hardy. But I don't believe this is the one he knew. Anyway, haven't heard from her yet.

Isn't it a shame Rhonda to but all that work into a combination of just sort and not but any bigcss!!! I was going to bigcs it in the Liberty General Information File but I can't quite it can be made a little more useful to someone. It you can fill in the bigcss, do so, and I'll be happy to but it in the liberty so that it might give someone else a little help or they could help you too!

I've not accomplished a thing on the Ritch time. We did go to Ga. for Xmas and had a wonderful time. If had been \ years since I had been there. Dan had been back for duick trips, funerals, etc. but I hadn't. The timing was perfect. Dear Vivian,

I sure hope you and Dan are enjoying all this nice winter weather. We ain't never seen nothin' like this one!

Vivian, I am inclosing a genealogy of William A. Helms and Sarah Frances Boswell, which Mr Jack Morgan, 403 Allen Street, Thomaston, Ga 30286 recently mailed me. He is semi-retired and is helping accumulate cemetery and family records of old settlers of Upson and adjoining counties. He is most cooperative and has access to a world of info —

Also I'm corresponding with Mrs Ann Holloman, 1600 Whitney Ave, Albany, Ga 31707, who is decended from W. A Helms' daughter Rebecca. She's most intrested in Boswell info and I recently mailed her your address. (She's been sharing Harris Co Helms info with me).

I've never corresponded with Hazel Helms Hardy so I'd especially appreciate it if there's anything that can be shared with her! Soon as I can I'm going to try & get by Thomaston to see her —

I surely hope some of the above pans out for you. And once again, I appreciate all the assistance I've received from you.

Sincerely
John Helms

Couldn't find a thing on either David or Archibald Helms in Mecklenberg Co. N. C. Sorry!

I'm wondering if you could see what you can find on a Charles Lynch that was born in Tenn. ca. 1799. He married Lydia Shekell, b. 1807 in Ky., don't when they married. Their son, James, was born in Indiana, ca. 1820-27. I've found a Charles in Lincoln Co., Tenn. Our library doesn't have much on Lincoln Co. Could you help me? Really appreciate it. Not my line, of course, but I'm trying to help this poor lady that is just lost.

I'm enclosing some of our terrible photocopy, but this might be of some help to you.

Good Hunting!

Dear Vivian

Just received your letter tonight and it's sure nice to hear from you again!

Thanks for the Rich family Association info. I won't bother to write them—

I am very grateful for the info on James Helms. I have him as being born in 1853. I was told by a grandson of his who lives in Jefferson Oregon that he had Emmett (who lived or was born in Lawton Okla) and John F (b 1886 in Macon Ga) by his first wife. A son of John F now lives in Fresno California. Children of his second wife were Milas (b 1906 in Nineksh, Texas), Roy, Len, Pat, and Fletcher.

(at work 2/21) Vivian, I think I wrote you once about Mrs Evelyn Todd, 31212 BRAE BURN #3, HAYWARD, CALIFORNIA 94544 being connected to the Boswells. She is descended from Richard Helms, James' uncle (~~a bro~~ my gr g.f.'s bro) I think she said her grandmother Helms' half sister married a Boswell. Anyway, Richard & family lived originally in Talbot & Harris counties. Probably I am repeating myself, but also Mrs Julia Mann, Talbotton, Ga 31827 was a Boswell before she married.

Both of them are "getting old" and I haven't heard directly from Evelyn in 'most two years. She's in pretty bad health, but maybe you'll hear.

I was rather interested in your reference to "David Ritchie - grantor to John Helms". There was a John Helms, surely the same one, who had land dealings in Harris Co before 1836, when the Helms (Allen & Amna) came to Ga. I'm not home right now, but as I recall there was reference to his "recent land grant". Allen Helms had an uncle named John, so I'm thinking maybe he and his land grant influenced the rest to come down — possibly he & David were about the same age and they came first — Maybe sometime or other we can find out more.

Thanks again for being so nice to send the info! I'll continue to try to keep things up to date with you.

Sincerely

John Helms

P.S. Vivian if & when you're near that Mansfield census again will you please copy the info on James' children?? I'd surely appreciate it, for this letter covers almost all I know about James and Richard.

Dear Mrs. Jordan:

I recently received a letter from Mrs. Elizabeth Ritch McCutchen in response to an inquiry for information on the Ritch family. In her letter, she suggested that I contact you since she understood that you are currently researching the Ritch family history.

For over a year now, I have been researching my side of the Ritch family and I seem to have hit a blank wall when I get back to David Ritch, my Great-Great-Great Grandfather. It was interesting to note that David Ritch was Elizabeth's Great-Grandfather.

From what I can gather to date, David Ritch and several members of his family were long term residents of Mecklenberg County, North Carolina.

I am enclosing three attachments that may be of interest to you in your research.

Attachment 1. Contains a brief version of my research to date.

Attachment 2. A copy of David Ritch's will obtained from the Muscogee County, Georgia Probate Judge's office.

Attachment 3. A copy of John Ritchie's will obtained from the archives department in Raleigh, North Carolina. As you will note, I made a typewritten, line-for-line interpretation of John Ritchie's will. Where there are blank spaces in the typewritten copy, I come across words that I just could not decipher. Maybe, after more study of the will, I can fill in most of the blanks. I believe that John Ritchie was my Great-Great-Great-Great-Grandfather. As you will note, there is a David Ritchie mentioned in his will. John Ritchie was apparently a resident of Mecklenberg County at the time of his death, sometime in 1788.

In tracing the Ritch family, I found that the surname for family members prior to 1800 was sometime listed as Richey and in 1800 was listed as Ritchie. I suspect that the earlier spelling, Richey, was an error made by census takers. A further note of curiosity, sometime between 1800 and 1820, the family name changed from Ritchie to Ritch.

From that point on, the spelling of the Ritch name remains unchanged for my side of the family.

I have been keeping in contact with several Ritchs in the Charlotte, N.C. area. Several of them have provided some interesting information, but as yet, I cannot find the link between our two sides of the family. Also, I am in contact with other Ritch family members in Birmingham, Alabama, Montgomery, Alabama and Columbus, Georgia.

I am still waiting for responses to several letters that I have sent to other Ritch family members in hopes that they can help me fill in some missing data on our family.

If you do have availability of information that would help me in my research, I would appreciate your assistance. I will be glad to reimburse you for the cost of copies of information you might have that will help me. In turn, as I obtain more information from the letters I send out, I will be glad to provide information to you.

I do have more information on the Ritchs not enclosed in this letter. I did not include this data since I had run out of copies. If you want this additional information, I will be glad to provide it to you as soon as I can get a chance to make extra copies.

A curious note in Elizabeth's letter, she mentioned that certain Ritch property was a land grant from the King of England. Unfortunately, Elizabeth did not mention when this land grant occurred or exactly where this property was located.

Any assistance that you can provide to me will be appreciated. And, if you have any questions about my family research efforts, I will gladly answer them to the best of my ability.

Thank you for your consideration in this matter.

Sincerely,

Lawrence (Larry) Ritch

Dear Larry:

How pleasant to hear from you! Have been thinking about you and that I really should write to you before I took my trip. I'm going to attend the National Archives Genealogical Seminar that is held in D. C. every year. I will be there from July 17th to July 27th. The seminar is a week...day and night sessions. We, my Boss and I, then intend to do a little research in the Nat'l. Archives, DAR Library and Lib. of Congress. Naturally, I intend to keep my eye out for any Ritch names that might pop up!!

You sound as if yourare going to have a very nice tour of the South....in the fall. Sure hope that you find out something on your families.

To answer your question about the will of John Ritchie..no you haven't sent it to me. No rush...I remember well how it was to move.and have all your things packed away. Haven't moved in over 30 years and I do believe that it would be better to just burn it down!!

I'm curious as to what you do for a living? If you have mentioned it before, I've forgotten.

Must get with it and get dinner. Do keep in touch and know that I'm always looking for these Ritch folks.

Sincerely,

Judy

Dear Vivian:

As you will note from the return address shown above, we have finally moved from California. We are delighted to get away from that place. At the present time, I am working at Andrews Air Force Base, a short distance from Washington, D.C. We may move from here to Virginia within the next two years, because I expect to be transferred to the Pentagon within that time period.

Our trip East was difficult, with the car trouble and the blizzard in Wyoming. However, we did arrive here safe and sound and that is what counts in the end. The area here is beautiful with all the greenery and close by woods.

In your 18 January 1983, you asked about receiving a copy of the 1787 John Ritchie will. So much has happened since then, I am not sure or not if I did send you a copy. If not, please let me know and I will send it to you.

This Fall, I plan to spend a week to 10 days in the Charlotte, N.C. area. Hopefully, I can pick up some leads there. Fortunately, it is only a one day drive (approximately 400 miles) from here. Also, Richmond, Virginia (where the State Archives are located) is only two hours away.

Sometime the early part of next year, I plan to go to Mobile, Alabama and Biloxi, Miss. to visit relatives. While I am at it, I will drive through Montgomery, Alabama and take a short side trip to Pike County, Alabama. Maybe I can find out something more about my elusive Great-Grandfather, Leander W. Ritch, the one who supposedly died in 1862 and then turned up in the Masonic Order in the late 1890s.

We just recently moved into our home here and all of my genealogical research papers are still boxed up. I hope to correct that problem in the next week or two so that I can get on the research trail again.

I must close for now, but will be back in contact soon. Please take good care of yourself and drop me a line when you have an opportunity.

Sincerely,

Larry

Tony

Dear Larry:

I want to get this note off to you before the time slips up on me and then I won't have the time!

I do thank you for the wills. Very interesting and I must study them when I come back from D. C. I shall check while I'm in the DAR Library the Ritch papers that you mentioned. I noticed that you didn't say anything about v.2 of the Patriots Index. This has been out a few years. The DAR have added and put in corrections to v.1. I will check that tomorrow at the library and see if anymore Ritch/Rich/Ritcheys are listed.

This will be my first trip to Washington in about 8 years. But in those days my time was completly taken up with Masonic doings. Can you imagine Wash. in Feb.? Miserable!!! Rain, sleet, snow... blah. You can have it. But you are right, it is historic and one should see the various places. We were fortunate in that we had an 'in' one year and got a special tour of the private quarters of the White House...most interesting. My traveling companion is new, so it will be nice to see things through her eyes. I especially hope to go to the Kennedy Center again and perhaps Fords Theatre.

Could you check the papers for me and tell me what is playing when we will be free? That would be Friday 22nd.(last day of conference),Sat.,Sun. Mond. & Tues. We leave for Tex. Wed. a.m. Just drop a card of what and when...and if there is a phone, maybe we could call from here to get reservations for tickets. Would really appreciate it.

I will call some time or other while I'm there. We will be staying at the Hotel Harrington which is an old,old Hotel but all genealogists stay there because it is 2 blks. from Archives etc.!!

Keep on looking for those Ritcheys...

Sincerely,

Dear Vivian:—

It is always nice a pleasure to hear from you. I am pleasantly surprised to hear that you will be in my area in July. The unfortunate part is that I may not have an opportunity to see you during your visit to Washington. I will have to play it by ear during that period because the possibility exists that I may have to work straight through (including weekends) from mid-July to the last few days of the month. When you arrive in Washington, please call me at my home (phone 782-4538) here in Upper Marlboro and I will be in a better position to tell how heavy my workload will be during the last half of July. It would be a shame not to have the chance to meet with you after all this time. Without question, I will make every effort to break loose at least one weekend day while you are here.

I know you will enjoy your visit since there are so many things to do and places to see. We have not as yet had an opportunity to do any sight-seeing since we arrived since we are still in the process of unpacking and trying to get our household in order.

As I promised some time back, I am enclosing a copy of the John Ritchie will of 1787 (I believe him to be my 6-6-6-6- Grandfather). Also, I am including a copy of John Ritchie Jr's Will of 1837 (son of John, Sr), a copy of David Ritchie (Ritchie's) will of 1847 (my 6-6-6- Grandfather), a schematic of my family tree, some miscellaneous census on the Ritchies (1790-1800) and a Patriots' List from the DAR Patriot Index that I ran across several years ago.

Soon after I obtained a copy of the DAR Patriots' Index, I wrote to the DAR, asking how I might obtain copies of the applications for the Ritchies listed in their index. Since I was not a member, they would not provide copies of applications to me, thus another possible avenue of investigation cut off. Sometime later, however, a friend of mine who I have since lost contact with (a member of the DAR), was able to obtain copies of three applications for Ritchies (note highlighted names), which I still possess. However, they do not include any information that helps me in my research. I cannot help but believe that in one or more of the remaining Ritchie applications (17 in all), there is some family information that may prove to be invaluable in tracing one branch of the Ritch (Ritchie) family. If you find the DAR personnel cooperative, and you can obtain copies of applications for the remaining 17 Ritchies, I will be delighted to reimburse you for these copies. In fact, if you know how much these copies cost, I will be glad to send you the required amount in advance of your trip to Washington.

As I may have mentioned earlier, while we were still living in California, I had written to the Virginia Archives to obtain copies of documents referenced on page 108 of "Threads of Ancestors." I have received documents for all but six of the listed Ritchies. Since Richmond, Virginia is now only two hours away, at my first opportunity. I will drive down there and see what I can obtain first hand from their Archives Department.

You asked about my occupation. At present, I am a budget analyst for the Air National Guard. Although I am currently working for the "Guard," my job is under the umbrella of the Air Force Comptroller. It is a very interesting job and I like it very much. In the near future (possibly within one month), all of associate analysts will be assigned to the various aircraft weapons systems. My choice is the KC-135a (used for mid-air refueling of various aircraft) and A-10s (Close air to ground support aircraft). These aircraft are located at 18 different sites (mostly in the Northern U.S.) and I expect to visit all of these sites within the next Year and one half.

For the seven year period prior to moving here, I was involved in the financial management of the U.S. Air Force Military Construction Program in eight Western states (California, Arizona, Oregon, Washington, Idaho, Montana, Utah and Nevada). It was an extremely stressful job and I was very happy to obtain the transfer to Maryland. As a financial manager, I was responsible for a total closing and construction workload ranging from $250,000,000 to $1,000,000,000 annually. At any rate, I am glad it is over!

I do hope that the enclosed documents will be of interest to you. I have more information available, but most of it is still boxed up. I hope to remedy this situation shortly.

I do hope that your trip to Washington will meet all of your expectations. Also, if everything falls into place, I might have the opportunity to finally meet with you. At least, we should be able to have a good Telephone Conversation, if nothing else materializes.

Take good care of yourself and I extend to you my best wishes. Please keep in contact.

Sincerely,

Larry

P.S. If you will note on page 105 of "Threads", Alexander Ritchie and three brothers (Samuel, Charles & Hugh) and four other Ritchies (John, William, Robert and Archibald - also possibly brothers of Alexander) landed at New Castle, Delaware on 10 December 1727. Coincidentally enough, I have to go to New Castle on TDY week after next, my first trip to that area. I hope that I have sufficient time to look around and take some pictures. If so, I will send you some prints. Also, I have one copy of a will for Edmund Ritch (Ritchie), filed 8 Jan 1859 in Union Co, which lists the following family members: Wife - Rachel; daughter - Rachel Lemmond; daughter - Betty (Should be Betty?); son - Jones; son - Washington; daughter - Elizabeth Henby, and daughter - Eady Stilewell. I do not know yet how Edmond fits into the picture but he was born around 1803 or 1805, the year David (my 6-6-6 grandfather) was born. Also, John Ritchie, Jr owned land adjoining Edmond in the early 1800s in Mecklenburg Co. Also, I have proved, to myself, at least, that David's son Edward (my 6-6- grandfather) and all of his children (Alexander, Andrew S., Sarah and Leander Wesley Ritch - my Great-Grandfather) were born in Mecklenburg County.

Herzlich,

Hans

Dear Larry:

How nice to hear from you again! Must confess that I haven't been working on the Ritch line. I had a terrific breakt through on my Hill/Mosher line and that has kept me so doggone busy. It is so good to finally get that one little clue that makes everything fall into place.

Now....if we can only get that little break with the Ritch line!!!

I'm going to go through your letters and comment as I read..o.k.?

I'm hoping that on your trip to the graves of the Ritch people, that you took pictures. If so, my husband would really like to see them. If you have negatives, I'll have copies made or pay you if you have some made. We tried to find the graves on the Benning Reservation, on a Sunday afternoon, walked where someone told us the grave site was but we never found the plot. Naturally, anything that pertains to our Ritch family in Mecklenberg Co. would be appreciated. During the summer months, you know, so many of the Archives do not answer out of state queries.

I've corresponded with Ken Thomas, many years ago. Glad to hear that you met him face to face. The census records that you sent I had searched only as far as 1810, Anson Co., because that told me the likely father of our Emanuel.

Another correspondent has been a John Helms of Tenn. who really was the one who convinced me that David was really the father of Emanuel. In almost all of the Mecklenberg Co. census/records, you will find, right along with the Ritchs'..the Helms family. At the moment, I can't find his records, but he showed where one of his Helms' came to Ga. and then the Ritchs' came, they intermarried. Very convincing. In Mecklenberg deed records, The Helms and Ritchs deeded land to each other, lived close by etc.

Your Masonic records will just give you your man's Masonic record. It won't tell you his fathers name, etc. My husband is past Grand Master of Masons in Texas, so if you have any trouble getting your peoples records, let me know. It is always nice to know, just when he became a Mason and the name of his Lodge and if he held any office.

I did find this record, in Union Co., N. C. "Cemetery is 4 miles east of Indian Trail, N. C. and ca. 1 mile beyond Hemby Bridge..Ritch Cemetery... (only Ritchs listed) Edmond Ritch d. 11/5/1859..84 yrs. old; Rachedl Ritch d. 9/29/1865, 84 yrs. old." Other surnames, Foard, Byrum, Ormand, Horton, Stewart, Yandle, perhaps daughters of the old folks. Theirs were the oldest graves listed.

Really have to stop. I've been interrupted so many times that I don't know if this will make any sense or not!! It was good to make contact with you again.

Good hunting.

We tried to find the graves on the Benning Reservation, on a Sunday afternoon, walked where someone told us the grave site was but we never found the plot. Naturally, anything that pertains to our Ritch family in Mecklenburg Co. would be appreciated. During the summer months, you know, so many of the Archives do not answer out of state queries.

I've corresponded with Ian Thomas, many years ago. Glad to hear that you met him face to face. The census records that you sent I had searched only as far as 1810, Anson Co., because that told me the likely father of our Emanuel.

Another correspondent has been a John Helms of Penn, who really was the one who continued me that David was really the father of Emanuel. In almost all of the Mecklenberg Co. census/records, you will find, right along with the Ritche's...the Helms family. At the moment, I can't find his records, but he showed where one of his Helms' came to Ga. and then the Ritche's came, they intermarried. Very convincing. In Mecklenberg deed records, the Helms and Ritche deeded land to each other, lived close by etc.

Your Masonic records will just give you your man's Masonic record. It won't tell you his fathers name, etc. My husband is past Grand Master of Masons in Texas, so if you have any trouble getting your peoples records, let me know. It is always nice to know, just when he became a Mason and the name of his Lodge and if he held any office.

I did find this record, in Union Co., N. C. "Cemetery is 4 miles east of Indian Trail, N. C. and ca. 1 mile beyond Hemby Bridge..Ritch Cemetery... (only Ritche listed) Edmond Ritch d. 11/5/1859..8M yrs. old; Rachael Ritch d. 9/29/1865, 8M yrs. old." Other surnames, Ford, Byrum, Ormand, Horton, Stewart, Yandle, perhaps daughters of the old folks. Theirs were the oldest graves listed.

Really have to stop. I've been interrupted so many times that I don't know if this will make any sense or not!! It was good to make contact with you again.

Dear Vivian:—

I would be willing to bet that you thought that I had dropped through a hole in the ground. However, not exactly so. As you will note from the return address, we have moved since receiving your letter. During the moving process, I packed up all of my geneology material, and just recently retrieved it in hopes of picking up the lost threads. I do apologize for being so late in response to your letter.

As you may remember, I was tracing our family and managed to obtain rather solid information on my father (Julian Algernon Ritch), Grandfather (Elam Wesley Ritch), Great-Grandfather (Leander Franklin Ritch), Great-Great-Grandfather (Edward R. Ritch) and a rather weak, if not exactly proven without some reservations, link to my Great-Great-Great-Grandfather, David Ritch, who died in Muscogee County, Georgia in January 1848. Perhaps I mentioned that David Ritch and his wife are buried in a cemetery located in the middle of the Fort Benning, Ga. firing range.

I think I may have mentioned this fact and you may have also received the same information from Elizabeth Mc Cutcheon of Columbus, Georgia.

Also, I may have mentioned that I made a trip to Mecklenbery County, N. Carolina and Columbus, Ga. last year, meeting a whole host of Ritchs. On this trip, in Indian Trail, N. Carolina, I managed to obtain quite an extensive amount of information on Mecklenbery County Ritchs. For more specifics, I will have to search further in my records to dig it up. When I get the chance to do so, I will send you copies of the materials. Would like copies

In your letter, you asked about my independent source who informed me that David Ritch and family moved to Georgia around 1830. Well, I must admit to an error on that count. In November 1979, I received a letter from Kenneth Thomas, who lives in Decatur, Ga. He works for the State, dealing with the registration of historical sites for Georgia. Some of these sites wind up being registered in the National Registry. As a sideline, he is a professional geneologist and writes the Geneology Column for the Atlanta Journal. He gives lectures on Geneology all over the State. Incidentally, I met him on my trip last year and he is very interesting young fellow. To add to the mixture, he is a member of the Ritch clan and I am sure that this fact prompted him to assist me as best he could. Donors Kin

Dear Mrs. Ellis,

Thank you very much for your letter of March 10th. I am very sorry to hear that you have been ill. I hope you are feeling better now.

I am enclosing a copy of the letter that I received from the Secretary of State for Education and Science, Mrs. Margaret Thatcher, M.P., dated 14th March 1979. I am afraid that it is not very helpful.

I am sorry that I cannot be more helpful myself. I have written to the Secretary of State for Education and Science, Mrs. Margaret Thatcher, M.P., dated 14th March 1979. I am afraid that it is not very helpful.

Yours sincerely,

Edward Ellis

In his letter, he revealed the following information as a result of his research:

1800 Census for N.C.

Ritchie, David	Mecklenberg County
John, Ritchie	" "
James Ritchie	" "
Edmund Ritchie	" "

1820 Census for N.C.

Ritch, David	Mecklenberg County
Ritch, John	" "

Ken also found the following information regarding a "John Ritchie"

In "Olds' An Abstract of N.C. Wills (1760-1800)" Reference is made to a will written or probated in 1787 for a John Ritchie.

I have a copy of John Ritchie's will (recorded on 20 December 1787) in Mecklenberg County, N.C. In this will, he mentions the following people:

Jone (His wife)
William A. (Son)
John (Son)
Elizabeth (Daughter)
David (Son)

I suppose that you could stretch a point and state that the referenced John Ritchie was the father of our David Ritchie (Ritch). At this point, I make this assumption, rightly or wrongly, that (a) there couldn't have been too many Ritchies in

In his letter, he received the following information on a request of his nephew:

1800 Census for P. C.

Pettis, Travis — Mecklenburg County
Pettis, Peter — " "
Pettis, Pierce — " "
Pettis, Reuben — " "

1810 Census for P. C.

Pettis, Travis — Mecklenburg County
Pettis, Peter — " "

Then also found the following information regarding a "Peter Pettis"

In "Deeds: Cabarrus Co. N. C. Wills (1790-1800)"
Volume 1 on page 96 a will written by Peter in 1787 for a Peter Pettis.

A Peter a Rev. of Peter Pettis died (Inventory on 20 December 1787) in Mecklenburg County, N. C.
In this will, he mentions the following people:

Jane (his wife)
William (Son)
Peter (Son)
Elizabeth (Daughter)
Travis (Son)

I suppose that the Travis Pettis is part of Pettis that the nephew Peter Pettis was the father of our Travis Pettis (Peter), of this point,
I made this assumption, mainly as wrongly, that
(a) this Pettis does have the name Pettis in Mecklenbery County in the late 1700s - early 1800s, and not too many David Ritchies as well. If this particular David Ritchie is in our family line, then it appears that he and family moved from Mecklenbery County, N.C. to the Columbus, Ga (Muscogee County) sometime between 1820 and the time his will was written on 6 December 1847. I also have a copy of David's will. In this will, he refers to Lucinda (wife / mistress / house-keeper?) and the following children:

William
Mary
Anna Helms
Hannah Kleight
Edward Ritch
Holly Cry
J. Jefferson Ritch
Manuel Ritch

In response to your question regarding availability of a family Bible for David. I wish I did. The birth dates for the children were provided by Ken Thomas as a result of his research into census records, etc. Since you mentioned having the Bible record for Emmanuel Ritch, I definitely would like a copy and I will be glad to reimburse you for the copy costs.

Now to get back to the David Ritch / Edward Ritch connection. As I previously mentioned, my Great-Great-Grandfather was named Edward R. Ritch. In Ken Thomas' research efforts, he found that an "Edward R. Ritch" was listed as a legatee in Sale of Estate document for

Marbleton Depot in the late 1800's and the early Daniel Patton era. A fine picture Daniel Patton is in the family there.
Then it appears that he and family moved from Marbleton Depot, N.C. to the Gaboury Mc (Marigal Depot) sometime between 1820 and the time the mail was written as C Dawson

this mail, to begin to determine (write permission from

It appears to you quite regarding possibility of a family Bible for Daniel & Co. The Kirk's date by the children were furnished by Kay Thorne as a result of his research into Evans records, etc. Since you mentioned having the Bible name by Emmanuel Kirk, of Lafayette

Now to get from to the Daniel Kirk/Eleanor Kirk Connection. Via of previously mentioned found that an "Eleanor K. Kirk" was listed on a Register in Book of Kirk Genealogy by David Ritch. Other family members mentioned on this sales document include; A. Helms, Hannah Height, James J. Ritch, David Cry (for his wife, Holly), and Emmanuel Ritch.

The question now arises is the Edward R. Ritch mentioned in the estate sales record my Great-Great-Grandfather? At this time, I cannot positively prove that he is — but, how far can coincidence be stretched? To date, I have been unable to tell if Edward R. Ritch (my ancestor) was born in Georgia or North Carolina. When I visited Elizabeth McCutcheon in Columbus, Ga. last year, she and one of her sons drove me to several Ritch gravesites. One of the cemeteries included the grave of Emmanuel Ritch (Born 27 July 1814, Died 31 January 1884). On his headstone was the Masonic Emblem. In fact, a lot of the headstones for members of the Ritch family carried this emblem. Considering the tight-knit relationship that exists between members of the Masonic Order, I decided to take a new tack in trying to obtain more information on Leander Franklin Ritch, Edward R. Ritch and David Ritch. I have just written to the Grand Lodges for Alabama, Georgia and North Carolina to see if they have any of referenced Ritchs listed in their historical records. If so, this may open up a whole new avenue of inquiry. I will let you know about the results of my efforts.

In your letter, you mentioned that Elizabeth McCutcheon did not know who her Great-Great-Grandfather was. Her Grandfather was Emmanuel Ritch, according to what I could determine. That means

The question now arises in the Edmund R. Pitt memorial as to the Pitt-Rivers' Pitt? Or this Pitt, of Edmund Pitt-Rivers that is — Not, two Pitt-Rivers in Dorsetshire? To clear, I have been unable to get at Edmund R. Pitt (my brother) who now is living in Pitt Gardens. In the Pitt-Rivers Museum Pitt Buildings in Edmund, Ch. but you, this one of the two Edmund Pitt-Rivers Pitt Museum. One of the Edmund Pitt-Rivers Museum (Born 27 July 1874; Died 31 January 1884). On the Pitt-Rivers Museum Emblem. Object & Art of the Pitt-Rivers Museum of the Pitt-Rivers Museum. Examining the Pitt-Rivers Museum Pitt-Rivers Museum of the Museum Emblem. Object & Art of the Museum, of Edmund R. Pitt-Rivers Museum in Oxford. It also Museum Museum Museum that David Ritch was her Great-Grandfather. Beyond that point, I am no better off than she is at this time. Hopefully, one day we can clear this matter up. At times, I feel like that I am tilting at windmills!

I am really at a loss regarding the land grant story for the Ritch family. I can't substantiate it. I did receive this information from Elizabeth, though. What makes it more confusing is that Elizabeth turned over to one of her sons, a lot of Ritch family documents. Elizabeth said she asked him to return them to her but he refused — on what grounds, I am not sure. I wrote to him requesting assistance, but he never answered my letter. This is very frustrating since there is every possibility that these documents could be very helpful to us.

I am like you in desiring that a Ritch family book could be produced for our descendents. At the earliest possible point, I will update my personal genealogy chart and send you a copy.

I recently received a letter from a Mrs. L. Marguerite Chance Beasley, Montgomery, Alabama, whose Great-Grandfather was Alefonder S. Ritch. She is definitely in my family's line since Alefonder was the brother of Leander Franklin Ritch, my Great-Grandfather. I wrote back to her, giving all the information that I had collected to date. Also, I recommended that she contact several different organizations/activities in her locale since she lives not too far from Pike County, Alabama, listed as the area of residence for Leander Franklin Ritch and Edward R. Ritch.

I have received word that the University of Alabama has extensive records available on Confederate Civil War Veterans. Perhaps that may reveal some more information on Leander Ritch — and possibly Edward R. Ritch, if he had been a member of a Militia or Reserve organization.

Just recently, I missed out on a transfer to Atlanta, Ga. I am still just getting over that, because Atlanta would have been a tremendous asset to me in continuing my research in view of its closeness to the Eight areas in Alabama, Georgia and North Carolina.

Well, Vivian, I really must close for now since it is late Sunday evening and I must get up tomorrow morning at 3:00 AM. Please take care of yourself and I hope to hear from you when you have the opportunity to write.

Sincerely,

Larry

Dear Vivian :-

Just after I mailed my previous letter to you, I started looking through some of material and I thought I would pass it on to you — for what it may be worth. Perhaps the following information, plus what I have already sent to you, might be of some help :-

Vivian, if you match the lines, you can detect what appears to be some correlation of movement of the Riches — not exactly solid, but it could be more than coincidence.

The other thing I wanted to mention was something that my father, Julian Rich, conveyed to me. He said that our side of the family had Cherokee Indian blood. He said that there was sufficient Cherokee on our side that his father (Elom Wesley Rich) and his (Elom's) sister (Adaline T. Rich) could have obtained land in the Cherokee Strip of Oklahoma, but Adaline had to sign the papers along with Elom, and she would not sign. My father also told me that he had been told by some of his relatives that they had seen the papers in question. I cannot verify this, but it does introduce some interesting questions.

Well, Vivian, I must close for now so that I can get to bed. 3:00 AM comes mighty early. Please see next page for a Post Script—

I received another letter today from Marguerite Beasley, Montgomery, Alabama (she is the Great-Grand daughter of Andrew S. Ritch (brother to my Great-Grandfather (Leander Franklin Ritch)). She said that her Grandfather (Andrew Alexander Ritch) told her that he was Scotch. If that be true, the field is narrowed some for I couldn't find anything of substance to indicate if our name originated in Scotland, England, Germany or France. She (Marguerite) will do some more research on her end of the line — maybe she will find out something else to help us. Continue our efforts.

Take care of yourself and I will be back in contact with you soon.

Dear Vivian:—

It was a pleasure to hear from you again. I'm sure that your research is keeping you very, very busy.

I suppose you could consider this letter a report of non-information, to a degree. I have not heard back yet from the University of Alabama (regarding Civil War service for Edward R. and Leander F. Ritch), no word yet from the Georgia Archives on David and Edward R. Ritch nor have I received a response from the Grand Lodge of Alabama regarding the possible membership in the Masonic Order for Leander F. and Edward R. Ritch. Responses from the Grand Lodges of Georgia and North Carolina were negative. In response to my letter to the Archives Department for North Carolina, I was informed that for a small fee, they would perform a search, and if anything turned up, a copy charge would be added. No problem there except that N.C. Archives will only perform a search based on one letter per individual, and one question for that individual. So, I sat myself down and wrote them six letters requesting copies of wills and/or estate records for John, Edward, James, David, Jacob and Henry Ritch (Ricky, Ritchie), all shown in various year census records for Mecklenberg County. It will be a while before I hear anything back on those requests.

Thank you for your offer of assistance regarding help in obtaining Masonic Order information. The letter I wrote to the Grand Lodge of Alabama remains unanswered, but it has only been a months since I wrote to their office. If I haven't heard back from them by the end of July, I would appreciate your assistance in trying to determine if Edward R. and/or Leander J. Pitch were members of the Masonic Order in Alabama.

Yesterday, I went to our local library to again look through their various books on genealogy. In one book, I come across a reference to a James Price bringing over a David Pitch (England, Ireland or Scotland) sometime in the 1600s. This particular book was for either Pennsylvania or Virginia. Another book referred to a land grant made to a David Pitch (once again in the 1600s). Another book referred to a land sale to a David Pitch — I don't remember the year. Unfortunately, I did not have any change with me so I could not make copies of the referenced pages. Doris go back next weekend and make copies for us. I realize that these references are most likely coincidences, but it struck me as rather odd. The other part that kept bothering me was the reference to James Price. When I returned home, I started looking through some previous correspondence and in a newspaper article sent to me by Doris Pitch, there was a reference to an Eliza Price Ritch. Eliza was a daughter of Joseph and Elizabeth Price. Eliza was the third generation offspring of a Mourner Price that came to America from France in the mid-1700s. The whole newspaper article was in reference to the annual reunion of Prices. The article is not dated nor do I know yet where the newspaper was printed, although I suspect it was printed somewhere in North Carolina. In this some article, reference was made to an Elizabeth Price marrying a James Ritch. One of their sons (James Ritch) married a Miss Lemmond — and on, and on — but this line ties in to Deon Ritch Long and Doris Ritch, the one I have been corresponding with so much in Indian Trail, N.C. And in viewing Doris' family tree, a James S. Ritch married an Eliza Price. So, everytime I turn around, a Price is involved with the Ritchs. To compound the problem, the same article on the Prices refers to several members of the Helms clan. At this point, it is difficult to tell where coincidence leaves off and reality begins. Could it be possible that the James Price — David Ritch relationship (mid-1600s) was so strong that the two families moved together from state to state (Pennsylvania or Virginia) to the Carolinas over such an extended period of time (100-150 years)? I am sure that close family ties existed much more strongly then than they do now, but could they have been that close? Perhaps the two families were more than friends — perhaps there was a fairly close blood relationship. Anyway, the whole prospect intrigues me to the point that I must look closer at this situation.

Somewhere, there is someone that can help us break the barrier and tie the Ritch problem together.

I may have mentioned in my last letter that Marguerite Ritch Beazley (resident of Montgomery, Alabama) said that her Grandfather told her that the Ritchs were of Scottish descent. If we could just trace back far enough to know which of our Ritchs came over (and when) with certainty, I believe we could make great strides on family information from the "Old Country."

Well, Vivian, I suppose I have posed enough questions and comments for the time being. I can feel my frustrations building up to an enormous level. If I can just gain a little more substantive information, I will re-contact Ken Thomas to see if he can help us pin down at least part of our problem. I will write again when I receive responses to my outstanding correspondence.

Take good care of yourself and write when you get an opportunity.

Sincerly,

Larry

Dear Brother Savage:

My wife is endeavoring to find out something about my ancestors and would appreciate any record you might have on

Leander Franklin Ritch, and

Edward R. Ritch.

I was born at Warm Springs, Georgia and grew up in Molena (about 15 miles north of Warm Springs).

My maternal grandmother's maiden name was Ritch and who was born and raised at Columbus, Georgia. My wife has somehow determined that the above-mentioned Ritch brothers(?) might have been Freemasons in Alabama. Nearly all the male Ritch(s) were members of Lodges in Georgia back in the 1850's etc.

If you would please have someone check your records, it will be appreciated. If there is any expense, I'll be happy to reimburse your Grand Lodge.

Fraternally and sincerely,

Dear Vivian:—

I hope that by the time that this letter reaches you, all of your vacation problems will have disappeared. The Continental Airlines situation looks grim, indeed. The prospects for other notable air lines does not look much better at this time. I just hope that you encounter no major problems.

I have looked at the records you sent to me and I too see little of any consequence. It appears, based on my latest count, that there are applications for 19 more Ritchies to be looked at (between Volumes I & IV). Just to compound the problem a little, the U.S. Archives has 35mm reels showing service record cover for a whole host of American Revolutionary War servicemen. At one time, I copied down the relevent data from these service records for the various Ritchie (Richey, Ritchey) service members and I came up with 56 Ritchies, and not one of them listed from North Carolina. However, two were listed from South Carolina. This puzzles me since neither North nor South Carolina were actually admitted to the Union until 1788/1789 period. Thus, I am puzzled further, as to where the information is buried for Revolutionary War vets who entered service from the area now deemed North/South Carolina? I suspect that the answer is in the Virginia records. What is your opinion on this matter? Just to compound the problem further, I noticed that on the copy of Vol IV, DAR Patriot Index that you sent to me some time back, there is one Ritchie (Jacob) listed as having entered from North Carolina — yet, Jacob is not listed as being one of the 5 to Ritchies listed in the U.S. Archives records. Apparently, someone has better information available than the U.S. Archives in order to obtain a confirmed DAR application for Jacob Ritchie. I am wondering if the N.C. State Archives might have a listing of Revolutionary War vets that might prove to be more revealing? I think I will write to them and see what they have to offer.

Mrs. Frederick King Thomas
Maple Meadows, Mass. 01772

Before the dust settles good on the case of the missing Ritchies, I am going to be forced to spend some time at Raleigh, NC (Archives) and the Charlotte (Mecklenburg County) area. I had hoped to do this before the first of the year, but too many things have taken place to prevent my doing so before Spring time. I have been home from work for over three weeks now recovering from major surgery and I probably won't be back to work until mid-October. Also, we are right in the middle of a home purchase situation that probably won't be settled until the first of the year. So, with one thing and another, I do not expect to get my two week vacation to North Carolina until March at the earliest. I do see, however, the possibility of getting to Wilmington, DE, to Cheek out the ships lists for passengers arriving at New Castle, DE and possibly getting down to Richmond, VA to look at what they have in their Archives on Ritchies.

I guess my motor has run down for awhile, so, I will close with best wishes and I will keep you apprised of any further revelations or my search for missing Ritchies.

Sincerely,

Larry

I was born at Warm Springs, Georgia and grew up in Molena (about 15 miles north of Warm Springs).

My maternal grandmother's maiden name was Ritch and who was born and raised at Columbus, Georgia. My wife has somehow determined that the above-mentioned Ritch brothers(?) might have been Freemasons in Alabama. Nearly all the male Ritch(s) were members of Lodges in Georgia back in the 1850's etc.

If you would please have someone check your records, it will be appreciated. If there is any expense, I'll be happy to reimburse your Grand Lodge.

Fraternally and sincerely,

Dear Vivian:—

I was hoping to be able to report a monumental breakthrough, but such is not the case — with one small exception. In the 1790 North Carolina Census, a whole host of Ritchs (Ritchies / Richeys) were listed; two James Ritchies (one Ritchie from Cumberland County and one Richey from Burke County), one Henry Richey (Mecklenberg County), one Jacob Richey (Mecklenberg County), One David Richey — who I believe is our mutual and common relative — listed in Mecklenberg County records, starting at 1790 and continuing through 1830, and three John Richeys (one from Fayetteville Town, one from Rockingham County and the last from Mecklenberg County. I wrote to the N.C. Archives requesting copies of wills / estate sales records for the James Richeys and John Richeys. I received back a negative response on all except the John Ritchie from Mecklenberg County. The peculiar thing about the will I received (prepared on 20 December 1787 and probated in 1788) was that it identical in wordage as a John Ritchie will I received from Doris Ritch (Indian Trail, N.C.), except the handwriting is totally different — The two wills list the same wife (Jane) and the same four children (Elizabeth, William, John and David). I suspect that the David listed in John's will is our David Ritch. The John listed in the older John's will I believe is the same John Ritch (deceased in 1837) whose property adjoined Jacob and Edmond Ritch in Indian Trail, N.C. Doris sent me a handscribed map showing where Jacob and John lived in relation to Edmond, who is her Great-Great-Great-Grandfather. She believes that Jacob may have been the father of Edmond, which could be true, however, I asked her to try and find out about Henry Ritchie who also may play a significant part in our puzzle.

It has been over two months now since I wrote to the Grand Lodge of Alabama and I still haven't received a reply. If it wouldn't present too much of a problem, I would like to obtain some help from your husband in this matter. In my letter to the Grand Lodge, I asked if they had any information on:

Leander Franklin Ritch (Great-Grandfather)

Edward R. Ritch (Great-Great-Grandfather)

Both Leander and Edward were residents of Pike County, Alabama (Eastern Region, P.O. Berate), just prior to and during the early phases of the Civil War. Leander was apparently killed in action sometime between 1861 and 1863. Also, Edward filed a claim on Leander. I wrote to the Alabama Archives department, requesting a copy of a will or estate sales record for Edward but they had no record of such documents. I believe Edward died there in Alabama. Leander's widow and the children migrated to Texas, around Dallas. Anyway, if you can help me, I would appreciate it.

As I may have mentioned, one of my distant cousins (our common bond was Edward Ritch, son of David) who lives in Montgomery, Alabama, stated that her Grandfather told her that the Ritchs were Scottish in origin. If this is correct, the Ritchs (Ritchies) were Septs of the Mackintosh Clan who lived around the Inverness area of Scotland (The Highlands). The last two Saturdays, I went to the local libraries and accumulated some information on the Mackintoshs, which I am enclosing for your reading. I thought it was very interesting. Also, in 1656, a David Ritch was brought to Virginia by a Mr. Martin Baker (See copies enclosed). Another reference was made to David Ritch regarding a land grant, but I didn't make a copy the first time I saw it and last Saturday, I looked and looked and couldn't find it again. I will try again later. Perhaps a coincidence, but an interesting one since this David Ritch was from Scotland. Since I am just about out of ideas on how to go back beyond John Ritchie (1788 will) over here, I am going to write to two of the most prominent Scottish Genealogical Societies and see if they can put me in touch with a member or members of the Ritchies who may have an interest in their descendents as well as ancestors to see if they can tell me which members of the Ritchies migrated to America between 1606 and 1787, what boats they sailed on, and when, and where they came to. It might be like a needle hunt or possibly provide a different avenue of inquiry. I feel I must try this route, even if it is to no avail.

Well, Vivian, It is now getting late, this Sunday evening, and 3:00 AM comes very early — so, I will close for now. Please take care of yourself and write when you can. If you have any suggestions that might help in our research, please let me know.

Sincerely,

Larry

Dear Larry:

Season's Greetings!! Hope that this New Year will bring you all things good. Seems that the last time we 'talked' you were not too well. I hope that this has passed and all things considering, that you are once again tip-top.

Haven't done a thing, it seems, on the Ritch line. It shouldn't need saying but, of course, every time we get a new book in the Library, Ritch is the first name that I check in the contents to see if just maybe.....

We did go and find the Ritch cemetery on Fort Benning, when we were in Georgia in Oct. We took the last remaining Aunt of my husband's with us to see heregreat grandfather's grave and possible her 2 great (David).

I've had the enclosed xerox that I made for quite some time. Today I'm finally getting the time to send it on to you. Thought it was interesting, if you haven't already seen it.

Do keep it touch and let me know how you are and how the research is coming.

Sincerely,

Dear Darrow:

Season's Greetings!! Hope that this New Year will bring you all things good. Seems like the last time I talked you were not too well. I hope that this has proved to all those considering that you are once again up-to-par.

Haven't done a thing, it seems, on the Tiffel Line. It shouldn't need saying but, of course, every time we get a new book in the library, Pitch is the first name that comes in the concerts to see if that maybe....

We did go and find the Ritual memberson Fort Sandler, when we were in Georgia in Oct. We took the last remaining Aunt of my husband's with us to see Lieutenant Pratchenko's grave and possible her 2 years (David).

I've had the opinion since that I made too many blunders. Today I'm finally getting the time to send it on to you. Though it was interesting, if you haven't already seen it.

Do keep it brief and let me know how you are and how the research is coming.

Sincerely,

Dear Vivian:—

It is so good to hear from you again. As regards my current health, I am doing alright now. Last August, I failed a stress test and had to go into the hospital (Georgetown University) for tests. They administered the heart catheterization procedure and fortunately, it was determined that major artery blockage was not severe enough to warrant by-pass surgery. So, all I have to do now is take medication on a regular basis. Even before the test results were released to me, I had already made up my mind that I was not going to go through major surgery again. I had had enough the first time when I had surgery performed on my left lung in September, 1983.

I too, have had little time to devote to my favorite enterprise, research on the Pate family. I do not know if I mentioned it or not, but we purchased this place last April and it seems that all of my spare time has been spent in either fixing the place up or outside work in the yard (grass cutting, tulip bed preparation, hedge trimming, etc.).

I am delighted to hear that you all had the opportunity to visit the Pate Cemetery on Fort Benning. I was told that the cemetery was located on the firing range and that the only way that you could get access to it was to get advance permission from the Fort Benning Provost Marshal's office and include the need for a military escort to the site. Is this the way you plan to go to gain entry? Also, I am curious to know if there are family headstones still standing that are still legible? I would appreciate knowing about any information you picked up at the cemetery.

I appreciate receiving the xeroxed information on Charles and Jeremiah Ritch. I had not seen this information before. I received your letter this afternoon when I came in from work. I immediately dug into the following material, but could not locate a logical tie-in to the work I have previously performed on the "Ritch" line.—

1. "Threads of Ancestors," by Telford-Ritchie-Mize (Leila Ritchie Mize and Jerine Julia Mize). (Relates mostly to South Carolina and Georgia)
2. "Greenwood County Sketches; Old Roads and Early Families," by Margaret Watson & Relates to South Carolina)
3. "Sketches of Rabun County History," by Andrew Jackson Ritchie (Relates to Georgia)

I believe that I sent my copy of "Threads of Ancestors" to you so that you could copy some of the information it contained. If not, please let me know and I will be glad to loan it to you for your review. It has some fascinating information on "Ritchie", even though I have been unable to tie our family line to the Ritchie families listed in the book. I think that there is a relationship, but it is too early to be definite about it's. I had hoped to make a trip to Charlotte last Fall, but my entry into the hospital stopped my plans. Hopefully, I can make the trip to North Carolina later this year. Also, I would like to make a trip to Montgomery, Alabama and visit a Cousin there. She has located the Ritch property near Peoria (Pike County), Alabama, where Edward R. Ritch (David's Son and my great-great-grandfather) lived. I would love to go down there and search the various county records, Church records and local cemeteries for information. For that matter, it would be interesting to visit Dallon and Quincy, Texas where my father was born and my grandfather taught School. That will have to come about in future years, I suppose.

1. "Thanks to [illegible] Tafel-Putzig-Mittel (Glatz Putzig Mittel aus Paris Glatz Putzig) (Glatz Putzig macht die Dame und Herren!)

2. "Summer Beauty Sketches" Ueber Nacht und Ewig Jugend." Mit Mayer-Nachen (Nachts & Sept Cuchen)

3. "Sketches of Fashion Beauty Picture" by Chasseur Parisien Artist (Artist de Paris)

As regards the three books referred to above, I will be glad to forward any one or all three to you for your review, if you so desire. Personally, I thought "Travels" was by far the most interesting of the three books.

Well, Vivian, I must close for now with best wishes to you and Don from Reina and me. I will keep you posted on my research on the Ritchs.

Sincerely

Larry

Dear Uncle, I must give my family love to the Tetris family better the rest. I think that time is a relative, but it is too early to be absolute about it. Dear Larry:

If you aren't the one!! We got back from our trip and when I had plowed through all the doggone junk mail, bills etc., there is your little old letter, and what a story. You really did things up with a bang, didn't you?? Goodness, I hope you are well on the mend, by now and able to let this be a funny story, but man, you had a problem!

We had a nice visit with our #3 daughter in Wichita,KS then I got to rumage around some little town court houses, which is always fun. I didn't find anything new that was monumental, but I did add to the Nusz information(my granddaughter's father's name). Got a picture of the immigrant ancestorss tombstone etc. The grand daughter's family book that I got up for her a few years ago, is growing with a few tidbits here and there. I keep chipping away at the place of origin in Russia, but still sorta guessing.

There were about two days in Ks and then a ride across Mo and the southern tip of Ind. then Kentucky where the OTHER son in law's folks are from. Picked up some more records there. Now all I have to do is get all this paper off the couch, computer, desk and floor..into a file and entered into the computer!! I'll be all year at that, I guess. I'm so tired when I come home from the Library that I just don't get much done. Still not too happy with my programs, so I'm trying to decide between two of the ones that seem to do what I want...not to mention trying to learn the ins and outs of how to work the computer!!

At least on this trip I got to visit and work in the various facilites that I talk about all day long to the patrons plus meet their staff & learn more about their holdings.

We are now back in the old rut. We are trying to get our records on computer before we get into the new building, which should be sometime late summer. It will be so nice to have some elbow room to work in and have room for our books and films. I'm wondering now if I really will retire next Spring or not, Ha! Guess I'll have to wait and see just how it is to work in a completely new environment and with so much more staff to help us.

Really must close for now. Did want to let you know that I was thinging about you and hoping that you were all well once again. Know it was a disappoinment not to get to do any research but that's the name of the game. I'm convinced that you got onto Fort Benning, like we did that first time that we didn't find anything, through a back road...you just happen to have gotten on the right road and found the cemeteries, we didn't!! As to getting anymore infomation out of the Army about the 'unmarked' graves...believe me that is all they know and that list I sent is the list that they have...nothing else.

Kepp plugging on these Ritches...and keep in touch and keep WELL.

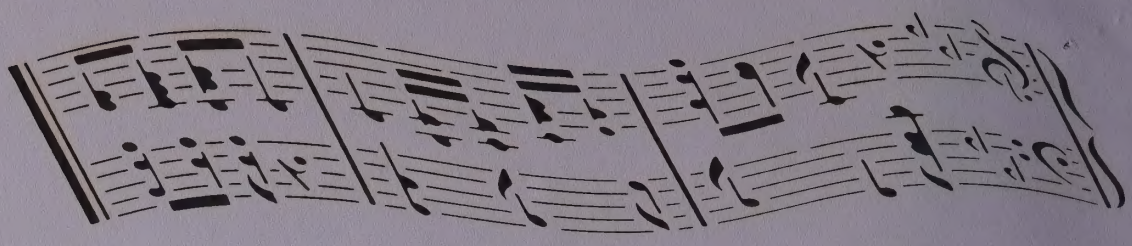
Dear Vivian:-

Thank you so much for the Kitch info you provided to me prior to our vacation last month. Unfortunately, our vacation trip was less than uneventful.

We were supposed to depart here at 6:00AM on Friday, 15 April, so that we could meet Harvey Homrich and his wife in Charlotte, NC, Friday night. Harvey is from a branch of the Kitch family and I have been corresponding with him for about eight years now.

At any rate, when I got up early on Friday morning to load the car, I noticed a big puddle of oil under the car.



I determined that it was not engine or transmission oil, but that was all. We waited until 8:00 AM and called my mechanic who came and towed my car away around 10:30 AM. The problem, it appears, was a broken power steering hose. By the time he got it fixed (around noon), it was too late to start out so we scrubbed Friday and started out early on Saturday morning. This, of course, killed any opportunity to do any research at the Charlotte Library on the way out. Harvey and wife already had plans for Saturday night so we told them we would stop in Charlotte on the return leg of our journey to Gulfport, MS.

After reviewing the material that you sent to me and comparing the data that I had picked up on our earlier trip to Columbus, Ga., we decided to pass up going to Fort Benning. The data that you sent in exactly the same info I picked up at the two cemeteries at Fort Benning. I do not recall passing any guard gates going to the two cemeteries. I am totally mystified by the whole process, for at the end of both sets of my notes, I had indicated cemetery # 38 and Cemetery #37 at Fort Benning. I did notice something in your notes that I failed to pick up at Cemetery # 38. That is the reference to four unmarked graves. 3

I suppose that there are the graves of David Ritch, his wife and perhaps some of their children. At some point in time, I would like to return to Columbus and check their historical records to see if I can uncover any clues to where the Ritchs originally came from.

We stayed overnight in Montgomery, AL and visited with some cousins that I uncovered in my research. Before going into Montgomery, we traveled about 50 miles south of there to a little place called Perote, the place where my grandfather (Leander Franklin Ritch) and his father (Edward R. Ritch, son of David Ritch, who died in Columbus, Ga.) lived after moving from Columbus. They did separate to some degree during and after the Civil War. Curiously enough, not too far from Perote is a small place called Inverness. Now Inverness in Scotland is in the highland area and the place where the McIntosh clan come from. As you may recall, the Ritchs (Ritchie) are supposed to be a sept of the McIntosh clan. Very curious, indeed. Now for another curious fact. Several years ago, Harvey Hamrick sent a brochure to me (originating in Scotland) indicating that the Ritchs have their own tartan. I have the directions on how to make it and the colors to be used in preparing it but I have not yet seen the finished product.

Enough of that! Our vacation in Gulfport went well. (5)

We started home on Wednesday, 27 April, with the expectation of arriving in Charlotte on Thursday evening, staying Thursday night, Friday night and departing Saturday morning on the last leg of our journey home. That part went well except that Friday in Charlotte was like a Zoo. A local celebration was underway in the downtown area and it was almost impossible to find a place to park — so, no research (again!) at the Charlotte Library. We did have dinner Friday night with Harvey and Kathleen Hamrick. They are a delightful couple.

We arrived home Saturday afternoon around 4:00 PM and that night, I started taking chills and fever.

also, I became very, very sore in a rather sensitive area. I did not return to work until Thursday and Friday, but could only stay a couple of hours each day. Finally, I could stand it no longer and went to see my doctor on Monday, 9 May. He diagnosed a significant cyst and immediately put me in the hospital. The next day, a surgeon operated on the cyst and the pain decreased significantly. The only problem associated with the cyst is that I had also contracted blood poisoning. So, for five days, I had IVs plugged in. I had more tubes running into me than I could count. I finally got out of the hospital on 14 May and have been home recuperating ever since.

I

I suppose the doctor will release me for work sometime next week.

So much for vacation!

Well, I must close for now with best regards to you and Don.

Please keep in touch and I will keep you informed of my progress on researching the Ritchs.

Sincerely,

Larry

Dear Vivian:

Happy New Year to you too!

It is such a pleasure to hear from you again. I hope that your holiday season was pleasing. For ourselves, it was very calm, which we enjoyed very much. The two week period prior to the Christmas week, Velma visited her mother in Alabama and her daughter in Mississippi. I was on annual leave during that period, taking care of the cat, my Alaskan Malamute, keeping house and studying for mid-term examinations.

Since we last had contact, I have had very little time to devote to genealogical research, what with my work schedule and my attendance at night classes. After this semester is over, I am going to take a rest from school for awhile and get my second wind!

The information contained in your letter, regarding Leander Franklin Pitch, comes as a great shock to me. As you will note in the attached documents, Leander was supposed to have died of disease on 25 May 1862 at Stonardsville, Virginia. After receiving all of these documents, I had no reason to search further. That is, until I received your letter. The mystery surrounding Leander deepens based on your information. When I first started into this family research in March 1979, my father and his sister told me that all three of Edward Ritch's sons had been killed in the Civil War. That would have been Leonder Franklin, Alexander and Andrew S. Ritch. Approximately two years ago, I received a letter from Marguerite Beasley telling me that she was the great-grandaughter of Andrew S. Ritch and that he died in Bullock County, Alabama in 1908. That was just the first of several surprises regarding my family. Actually Edward K. Ritch and wife (Martha) had four children; three sons (Leonder, Alexander and Andrew) and one daughter (Sarah). Sarah Ritch is supposed to have married a Laughlin McKinnon. Marguerite is still trying to chase down Sarah's descendants to see what she can find out about our family. She lives in Montgomery, Alabama, very close to the scene of action (Pike and Bullock Counties). However, her time is extremely limited since her husband is an invalid, thus, she has very few opportunities to explore the local scene. Andrew and Sarah have been accounted for, to a degree. Also, Leonder to some extent. Alexander, however, is even more of a mystery since neither Marguerite or myself have been able to trace him since the start of the Civil War. We feel sure that he joined the service, but we cannot, to date, find out anymore about him. We are not even sure that he ever married and had a family.

In regard to Leonder (my great-grandfather), he married Ann Elizabeth Graham and they had three children; one daughter (Adaline) and two sons (Elam Wesley, my grandfather and Leander W. Ritch). In the 1860 U.S. Census for Pike County, Alabama, the census taker spelled Leander W. Ritch's first name as Leonidas, which appears to be Greek in origin. Since there appears to be no Greek blood in our family, this has been a puzzle to me. The puzzle is now solved since Marguerite double checked the Alabama Census records for 1860 and found that the son's name is Leander not Leonidas.

Now comes the jackpot question, where was Leander Franklin Ritch between 25 May 1862 and the time of his death on 6 August 1901? Not only where was he but what was he doing during this period? In the attached write-up on Company "L," 15th Alabama Infantry Regiment, Leander died on 25 May 1862. This write-up was written by Colonel William C. Oates, former Commander of the 15th Alabama Regiment. This particular regiment fought to the end of the war and surrendered at Appomattox. If Leander continued to fight in the war after 25 May 1862, I have been unable to determine which unit(s) he fought with. Perhaps he was captured and not released until the end of the war. Maybe, for some reason, he deserted the service and returned home. He must not have returned home for some period of time as evidenced by the enclosed information regarding the death claim filed by his father (Edward R. Ritch) in October 1862. I am sure that Edward would not have filed a death claim if he did not believe that Leander was dead. Now the mystery expands further. In the 1870 Census, two of the three children of Leander and Ann Elizabeth Ritch are shown as being part of the Waley household. Perhaps Ann Elizabeth Ritch (the mother) was also living in the Waley household at that time. Where was Leander between 1862 and 1870? According to my father's sister, Ann Elizabeth (Graham) Ritch married a Mr. Whaley (close enough to Waley), taking the children and moving to Texas when Elam Wesley Ritch (my grandfather) was around fifteen years old, which would have been around 1873.

Did Leander return home before the War's end (1865) and find that his wife (Ann Elizabeth) had either taken up with or married one of the Waley (Whaley) boys and decided to give it up as a lost cause? Did he possibly re-marry and start a new family, living on in Bullock County until his death in 1901? If he did re-marry, there are probably several of his descendants still living in or around the Bullock County area. You have provided me with sufficient evidence to put me on Leander's trail again with me thinking that he died in 1862, & saw no reason to pursue him further. Now, at my first opportunity, I will go back to the National Archives and check the 1870, 1880, 1890 and 1900 Census records to see if I can pick up his trail. Also, perhaps Marguerite Beasley can assist some since she is so close to Bullock County. I just wish that I had the time to visit that area. Perhaps I could find and talk to some of the Ritch family there and find out exactly what happened. Also, with Leander being a member of the Masonic Order, he might have received a Masonic burial service and a headstone may be found in one of the local cemeteries. At any rate, I am off and running again. Incidentally, I just got off the phone to Ernest Ray Ritch, Jr. (Huntsville, Alabama) and he is a cousin to Marguerite Beasley (also my cousin), so we are all linked together. Ray indicated that he was not aware of any Ritch family members still living in Bulloch County. Thus, if there is anything to be found, it will have to be in the County records somewhere.

As far as the rest of my research, I am still hung up in Mecklenberg County, North Carolina in the late 1700s. It appears that David Ritch's (Ritchie) father was John Ritchie who died and left a will in 1787 recorded in Mecklenberg County. If you do not have a copy of this will, let me know and I will send a copy to you. Last year, I purchased three books that had extensive references on very early Ritchies. Two of the books had a considerable amount of overlapping material and the third book did not amount to much and was of no help whatsoever. Of the first two books, one was quite interesting and may eventually be the spring-board to some success. This particular book (Threads of Ancestors, written by Leila Mize and her daughter, Jessie Mize) traces their Ritchie ancestry from an Alexander Ritchie who came over from Ireland in 1727, along with what appears to be seven brothers, landing at New Castle, Delaware, then migrating to Pennsylvania then on to Virginia, South Carolina, etc. These Ritchies were Scotch-Irish. Leila and Jessie Mize traced down from Alexander to the Ritchies of South Carolina (I could find no North Carolina connection). However, I am in the process of checking out the other seven brothers (Samuel, Hugh, Charles, John, William, Robert and Archibald). Presently, and very slowly, I am obtaining copies of wills, inventory estate records and administrations from the Virginia State Archives. I have received copies of four documents to date and thus far, none of these documents have been of any help. There are still a lot of documents left for me to obtain, so, hopefully there will be some definite clues in one or more of these remaining documents (approximately ten). If none of these documents are of no benefit then, I will be up against a brick wall again, since I have obtained by mail, just about all of the documents I can think of from the North Carolina Archives and the Mecklenberg County Public Library. Both of these organizations have helped me more than I would have expected them to in view of the research efforts they have gone to on my behalf. That leaves only two avenues open to me; actually visiting the various records offices in Alabama, Georgia, North Carolina and Virginia and obtaining copies of applications for entry into the DAR organization for the various Ritchies (Richeys) listed in the DAR Patriot Index (21 of them). I wrote to the DAR trying to obtain copies of some of these applications, but, since I was not a member, they refused to do business with me. About three years ago, a contact of mine in North Carolina (a member of the DAR) managed to get copies of applications for me for three of the listed Ritchies. However, these documents contained no beneficial information. I have since lost track of my contact in North Carolina, so, the only way I can obtain copies of applications for the remaining 18 Ritchies is to find someone who is a member of the DSR that will be willing to help me. These applications contain a wealth of information on the individual concerned, the wife and children, so access to these records could provide some very important data.

Well, Vivian, I have just about run out of steam for the time being, so, I will close with my best regards and many thanks for the information that you have provided to me. Please write when you have an opportunity and I will keep you informed as to my progress on my research.

Sincerely,

Larry

Yours very truly,

Henry

Dear Mrs. Beasley:

Reference is made to your letter of October 28 requesting the Civil War military record of the men listed above.

An original muster-in roll dated July 3, 1862, Camp Mary, near Montgomery, Alabama, shows Private Andrew S. Rich, age 34, in Company E, 3rd Battalion, W. R. Head's Infantry Company, Hilliards Legion. He enlisted in Pike County, Alabama July 3, 1862.

A roll from "in the trenches near Petersburg, Virginia" January 1, 1865 shows Andrew S. Ritch a private in Company E, 3rd Battalion, Hilliards Legion and Company G, 60th Alabama Infantry Regiment. The 60th Infantry Regiment was formerly part of Hilliards Legion. He enlisted May 14, 1862 at China Grove, Alabama. He was born in Georgia, was 34 years of age, married, and was a farmer. He resided at Mt. Hilliard, Alabama.

Records of the Tax Assessor of Bullock County, Alabama, in a 1907 census of Confederate veterans, show that Andrew S. Rich was a private in Company E, 60th Alabama Infantry Regiment. He enlisted May 14, 1862 at Montgomery, Alabama. He was born October 25, 1826 at Macklinburg County, North Carolina. His address in 1907-8 was Fitzpatrick, Bullock County, Alabama.

The war engagements of Andrew S. Ritch are as follows: Absent sick: Chickamauga, Georgia, September 18 and 20, 1863, Knoxville, March 28, 1863, Beans Station, December 12, 1863, Drewery's Bluff, May 10, 1864, near Richmond, May 12, 1864 and Drewery's Bluff, May 16, 1864; Present: trenches in front Petersburg.

We have in our files the pension application of A. S. Ritch, which was filed in Bullock County, Alabama. This record states that he was a private in Company E, 3rd Battalion, Hilliard's Legion. You may have a copy of this application for $1.50.

An historical record roll dated December 31, 1864, near Richmond, shows 2nd Sergeant L. F. Ritche in Company I, 15th Alabama Infantry Regiment. He enlisted March 11, 1862 at Perote, Alabama. He was born in North Carolina, was a farmer, age 2[illegible], and was married. His residence was at Perote, Alabama. He was missing at Winchester, May 25, 1862 and absent sick at Cross Keys June 8, 1862. He died of disease at Stewardsville, Virginia May 25, 1862.

A list, Condition of Claims, 2nd Aud., C. S. Treas., shows that a death claim was filed on Sergeant L. F. Ritch, Company L, 15th Alabama Infantry Regiment. It was filed October 8, 1862 and was verified January 21, 1865. The claim was filed by E. R. Ritch, administrator, care of B. Fitzpatrick, Troy, Alabama.

We were unable to locate a military or pension record for Alexander Ritch. If you will write to the National Archives, Washington, D. C., 20408, they may be able to help you, as they sometimes have records that we do not have.

Yours very truly, brow severely and said, "I am driving back the stragglers who have run out of battle. Sir, do you know where my regiment is?" Watts softly replied, "Yes—it is away yonder about a mile from here, just a fighting and charging, and I am hurrying to get back to it." After this deliverance, feeling somewhat relieved, he pushed on, and left the officer wondering what that "cunning Yank" meant by that answer. I never heard of Watts after the war.

The total membership of this company, officers and men, was 125; 32 died of disease; 17 were killed in battle or mortally wounded and died soon after; 31 were wounded in battle; 16 served through two or more battles without ever being wounded; 13 discharged for original disability; 14 permanently disabled by wounds; 23 were taken prisoner by the enemy; 7 deserted.

One captain and three lieutenants resigned; one captain put on detached service because disabled by a wound; Lieutenants Porter, Gray, and O'Connor were killed.

COMPANY L.

Was organized at Perote, then Pike, now Bullock County, and was called the "Pike Sharp-shooters," and was mustered into the service on March 15, 1862. It joined the regiment at Brandy Station, Virginia, in the latter part of March, in terribly bad weather for men just from comfortable homes.

Doctor Robert H. Hill was elected captain. He was 26 years old, and an intelligent young physician; was a good officer and all the time at his post; was killed in the battle of Cross Keys, Virginia, June 8, 1862.

Lee M. Bryan was elected first lieutenant when 19 years old, and commanded the company after the battle of Cross Keys until June 27, at Cold Harbor, when he was severely wounded and disabled. When he returned to duty he was promoted to the captaincy of his company, and honorably retired March 28, 1863.

D. L. Hooks was elected second lieutenant when 24 years old, and died at Stanardsville, Virginia, May 8, 1862.

Robert Paul was 32 years old when elected third lieutenant, and died of disease at Richmond, Virginia, May 24, 1862.

G. W. Peach was 22 years old when enlisted. He was made first sergeant, went through the Valley campaign, was mortally wounded at Cold Harbor, June 27, 1862, and died July 4, 1862.

L. F. Ritche, second sergeant, was 26 years old when enlisted, and died of disease at Stanardsville, Virginia, May 25, 1862.

G. W. Grider, third sergeant, was 25 years old when enlisted, and died of disease at Lynchburg, Virginia, May 28, 1862.

Leven Vinson, fourth sergeant, was 35 years old when enlisted, and was present for duty until killed at Gettysburg. The muster roll says, "A good and brave soldier."

E. A. Ritche, fifth sergeant, was 24 years old when enlisted, was reduced to ranks for disobedience of orders, but was a fair soldier until captured in East Tennessee out on a detail foraging, and not exchanged during the war.

Mike Crowley, first corporal, was 26 years old when enlisted, and mustered "absent sick" half of his time; was reduced to ranks August 31, 1864, for "absence without leave." He was present in several battles.

C. H. Bonner, second corporal, was 18 years old when enlisted; a good soldier, and promoted to a sergeancy on December 31, 1862, and killed at Chickamauga, Georgia, September 20, 1863.

John Green, third corporal, was 27 years old when enlisted, and died of disease at Orange Court House, Virginia, April 30, soon after his arrival.

David A. Kelly, fourth corporal, was 26 years old when enlisted; was mustered "absent sick" two-thirds of his time, reduced to ranks for disorderly conduct, and captured at Gettysburg; not exchanged during the war. He returned to Alabama, and some years after moved to Texas.

A. T. Abercrombie was 20 years old when enlisted; was "absent sick" until he died of disease at Stanardsville, Virginia, August 29, 1862.

G. W. Allen was 23 years old when enlisted; was "absent sick" in 1862 and the greater part of 1863; was in three or four battles, then detailed to drive an ambulance, which he did to the close of the war.

W. R. Allen was 18 years old when enlisted December 3, 1863. Served on a detail for a while, was then returned to his company, and mortally wounded near Fussell's Mills, on the Darbytown Road, Virginia, August 16, 1864, and died the next day.

Dear Vivian: —

In regard to good old Leander, yes, I have a mess. Ok a little background, Leander was born around 1836 (actual date unknown). He had two brothers and a sister, as follows:

SARAH (BORN IN 1830 IN NORTH CAROLINA)
ANDREW S. (BORN ON 25 OCT 1826, MECKLENBURG Co, N.C.)
ALEXANDER (BORN AROUND 1838 IN NORTH CAROLINA)

When I first started my family research in March 1979, my father and his sister (according to her notes) informed me that all three brothers joined the Confederate Army and were all killed during the Civil War. Based on information received from you, Marguerite Beasley (a cousin of mine whose great-grandfather was Andrew S. Pitts, brother to Leander), all of the boys were not killed in the Civil War. I, nor any of the other people I know who are working on our side of the Pitts family have been able to track Alexander after the U.S. 1860 census. I thought that Leander had been killed in action, but, evidently not so. As for Andrew, information received from you and Marguerite supports Andrew's demise after 1900.

Coincidentally, your letter arrived yesterday and on Friday, I had spent over a half a day at the Archives in San Bruno, CA trying to get a lead on Leander, Alexander, Andrew, Sarah and their father, Edward R. Ritch. I started with the 1900 Soundex for Alabama and worked back through the 1880 Soundex (as you are aware, the U.S. Census for 1890 was almost completely destroyed by fire). No trace of Edward R. Ritch, Leander, Alexander, Andrew L. or Sarah. Then, I backtracked through the 1870 Census for Bullock County — still no trace — except for two of Leander's children, Adaline and Elam (my grandfather) who were living with a Kinchen Whaley and his wife (no children listed for the Whaley family). Now, my mystery appears. The two children (Adaline and Elam W.) and the mother (Ann Elizabeth Ritch) moved to Texas sometime after 1870. She is supposed to have married a "Whaley" (before or after moving to Texas, I just do not know). Ann Elizabeth died (the year escapes me, but I have it in my records somewhere) and is supposed to be buried in Denton, Texas. The burning question is, where was Leander, Andrew and Alexander from just before 1870 to 1900? I suspect that their father, Edward R. died sometime between 1862 and 1870, since Edward filed a death claim on Leander in October 1862. Perhaps Andrew, Leander and possibly Alexander moved back to (a) another part of Alabama (but this does not seem likely since none of them showed up in the 1880 and 1900 Soundex) (b) back to Muscogee County, Georgia (where Edward's father David lived for a while and died there) or (c) back to North Carolina for a while. I am sure that it is going to take a lot of research on my part to find out where they were for over a thirty year span. I could understand them possibly being overlooked in one of the three U.S. Census' — but not all three!

As regards Leander P. Ritch, I am sure he is one of the clan, but I cannot figure out who his parents were — possibly Andrew S.?

I appreciate your looking at the 1880 Soundex for Gadberry. I have at my disposal, a fairly comprehensive genealogical record on the Gadberry's and the one segment to the record you sent to me (George W. — the W is for Wilson, he married a Martha Ritter) is apparently a cousin to John Polk Gadberry, great-grandfather on my Mother's side. The data that I have on the Gadberry's is not too distinct. However, if you want a copy of this information, let me know and I will try to find a copy machine that will reproduce this information in a readable fashion.

I am enclosing several document for your file; a copy of the 1787 Will for John Ritchie, a copy of the 1847 will for David Ritch and a family schematic starting with John Ritchie.

Because the references to Ritchie are so numerous, I am sending you my copy of "Threads of Ancestors" so that you can copy whatever material you want. The book is being sent under separate cover to take advantage of the "Book Rate." Please, as a favor to me, forget about the postage. I am happy to provide you this book for copy purposes in hopes that the information will be interesting to you. Along with the book, I am enclosing a set of documents, provided to me by Jessie Wise, that contains a lot of information not included in her book. This set of documents is yours for the keeping since I have an extra set for my files.

On page 108 of "Threads," reference is made to various documents for a whole host of Ritchies. The book contains some of the data for some of the referenced documents. The additional research data enclosed with the book contains full data on some of the other documents. And for some of the other documents, I have ordered and received copies of some wills, estate inventories, etc. from the Virginia State Archives. Between the three different sources of information, I have data on all of the documents except for the following: —

Elizabeth (Mary) Ritchie, Prince Edward Co, Will, 1794
* Charles Ritchie, Prince Edward Co, Inventory, 1794
* Archibald Ritchie, Essex Co, Will, 1784
James Ritchie, Rockbridge Co, will, 1797 (On order from Va Archives)
John Ritchie, Rockbridge Co, Admr, 1799 (On order from Va Archives)
Robert Ritchie, Spottsylvania Co, Will, 1791 (On order from Va Archives)
Alexander Ritchie, Charlotte Co, Inventory, 1771
* John Ritchey, Augusta Co, Inventory, 1787

Thus far, none of the information contained in "Threads," the additional research papers provided by Jessie Mize nor any of the documents I have received to date from the Virginia archives have been helpful to me. All or part of this information may be valuable at some later date. The next order I place with the Virginia Archives will be for the documents shown with asterisks. Some of the documents received from the Virginia Archives are barely legible and probably won't show up when copied. If anything worth reviewing shows up in the remaining documents I plan to order, I will let you know their contents.

Well, Vivian, that is about all I have for now, so, I will close with my best regards and hope that the enclosed information will be of interest to you.

Sincerely,

Larry

JONES CROSS ROADS

(Former Palina Post Office)

Jones Cross Roads is located where the two paved roads cross: No. 18 connecting Chipley and West Point, and No. 219 north and south between Columbus, Ga., and LaGrange. This area is Lot No. 200 in District No. 20. The land was said to have been owned first by a man by the name of Morgan, then by Christopher Columbus Jones, finally by his son Monroe Jones—hence the name Jones Cross Roads. It is said that the Jones family owned all the land on the four corners of these Cross Roads.

Legend says the Jones family owned and operated a barroom, or tavern. A public race track was located on the southwest corner, where many a wild steed stepped off the big track, to cheers of a crowd of betting owners and friends. This is now a quiet pasture where many cows graze and lie in the shade of the trees.

Jones Cross Roads was a busy corner in the long ago, but today it is marked by yellows signs "STOP" an a quaint field-rock store that was built years ago by the Monroe Jones family. The place is now owned and operated by the Curtis B. Avery family. The county line touches the front of the store.

A beautiful brick modern home occupied by the Curtis B. Avery family is located on the southeast corner of the Jones Cross Roads.[403]

UNION ACADEMY

Union Academy was near the Jones Cross Roads.

Nathaniel Hutchinson, Jr., taught school at Union for many years.

An interesting report from the Unionville Board of Education is recorded: Males 62, Females 42; Total 104. Recepits: (no further report—only flourishing), State appropriation for Union Academy, November 14, 1834, was $97.

UNION BAPTIST CHURCH

(Located about twelve miles from Chipley)

The Union Baptist Church was organized 1838. Some of the early members were George Jenkins, John E. Williams, Billy Stripling, Morgans, Nancy Ransome, M. Wisdom.Charles Jefferson "Jep" Jenkins, clerk. The Rev. Bartley and the Rev. Mercer Callaway were early ministers. Other members were Lucy Davenport, Ida O'Neal. The church was rebuilt in 1897. The congregation used Baugh's Pond for the purpose of baptizing their members. In 1838, members celebrated the one-hundredth anniversary of the establishment of the church.

BAKER FAM. HIST.

THE BAKER FAMILY OF ENGLAND AND OF CENTRAL VIRGINIA: THEIR MANY RELATED FAMILIES AND KIN

PART I - CHAPTER IV

MARTIN BAKER, HIGH SHERIFF OF NEW KENT, HIS NEIGHBORS AND FRIENDS

New Kent County was formed in 1654, Martin Baker the immigrant had moved to that part of York County which became New Kent.

He was we know from the records a large land owner in York County. If he disposed of his lands in that county as it appears from the county deed books and invested the proceeds in the lands of the then frontier country which became New Kent he could have become the owner of a very large plantation.

In William and Mary Quarterly Vol. 11, No. 1, Page 3, of July, 1893, Dr. Lyon G. Tyler says that Martin Baker was sheriff of New Kent in 1657 to 1660. One year before this we learn from the Virginia Land Grant Archives at Richmond, Virginia that he as "Mr. Martin Baker of New Kent" acquired 1,050 acres of (additional) land for the headrights of 21 persons transported to Virginia as follows: -

With each headright, our first American Baker ancestor is listed in the old records as "Mr." which indicates in those times a man of more than average importance or possibly one entitled to coat armor. We think he had already become high sheriff of the newly formed county (1654); - anyway we know that he was sheriff from 1657 until March 23, 1660.

In the proceedings of the Virginia Grand Assembly of March 23, 1660 contained in a manuscript once in the possession of Sir John Randolph, transmitted by him to his son Peyton and at the latter's death purchased with his library by Thomas Jefferson who loaned the manuscript along with other papers and books to

Good to hear from you. I think we have a few wires crossed here, so I'll just go through some of the things you wrote in your last message and add my comments and/or additions as I go along. I think that's the easiest way to get through this.

> So you see, I have some news for you. Emanuel's father was David Ritch b in > NC and died in Wilkes Co., GA. (according to Larry Ritch, David was b > Meck.Co. NC. and d 1847 in Wilkes Co., GA. Supposedly buried on the old > range.

Who is supposed to be buried on the old Fort Benning...practice range–David or Emanuel? If David is buried there, how is it that he died in Wilkes County, a good 225 miles or so from the Fort Benning area?

The tombstones have quite a bit of bullet damage and if you have ever > been there, many, many empty cartridge cases are littering the ground. There > are four unmarked graves, so we can only assume that David is buried there.
> Nothing at this time is known of his wife.<

I have heard–and that is what I've been trying to verify–that a Susannah HELMS married David Ritch. That would tie the two famlies together before David's daughter Anna married Allen Helms. So far, no luck.
> You asked who was Sophia Louise Boswell who m Leander Helms. I have it that > she was the dau of George Boswell b 1811 and Caroline Bates b 1813.

Apparently, there is some confusion here. I didn't ask this question. I already have this information. In fact, I think I sent you information concerning the 1880 Harris County census and the fact that Leander's father Miles Helms was living in Harris County, GA at that time and that Leander, the youngest child of Sophia (who died 19 Jul 1876) was living in his household. Leander Helms (Sophia's husband) and his second wife Laura /Unknown/ are also in Harris County in 1880. In his household are two children by Sophia–George and Amanda Helms.

See above. Leander Helms (Sophia's husband) was the son of Miles Helms. The name Leander may indeed have come from the Ritch family.

> where he says that David Ritch b 1774-1784 in Mecklenberg Co., NC and d 1847

Is this what you meant to say above–that David died in Muscogee County, GA? That would certainly make more sense if he is buried near Columbus.

>He lists the ch/ David as -Anna, Hannah, Edward, Holly,
> J. Jefferson, Emanuel, William A., Mary..

Thanks a lot, Vivian. I didn't have these names. All I have as the children of David are Anna and Emanuel. I'll check this information against information that I have seen from another Helms researcher and let you know if they agree.

Okay, most of this agrees with my stuff. There are a few differences. First, I didn't have the name of Lynda's (Linda's) husband. Second, I have only Martha /Unknown/ as the wife of Archibald, whose middle initial, at least according to my records, was /A./, not /W/. Third, the spelling of Celethiel's wife's name is "Evilina", not "Evelyn", according to my sources. Finally, I do not have the name of David's wife and I have a date of death for him of 2 Nov 1863 in Marion County, GA. There is no mention of Alabama in my notes. (I don't know who Joseph Jefferson is--a Ritch or a Helms? Neither a Joseph Jefferon Ritch or a Joseph Jefferson Helms appears in my database.)

I don't understand what you're saying here. David BATES married Drucilla ECHOLS. They had several children. Among these children were John, Susannah, James, Fleming, Anderson, and Unity A. I have no Randolph listed as a son of David and Drucilla. Anderson Bates was married twice--first to Hannah EVANS (Caroline and Evans Echols Bates' mother) and second, to Jane COMBS. He had no wife named Randolph. Anderson and Jane Combs Bates had nine children, but none of them is named Randolph either.

That's right. David's father was John BATES and his mother was Chloe MAYES/MAYE. His grandparents were John and Elizabeth Alford Bates. This family goes back to the original immigrant John Bates, born 1598 in Kent County, England, and died 13 Mar 1666 in Middletown Parish, York County, VA. He was married to Elizabeth Winston, though her surname has not been proven.

Sorry, Vivian. Income tax time has me down.

You asked about the Bates Family and the Bates of Old Virginia organization. Yes--I already belong to it. The newsletter has really helped me a lot.

Since I wrote you last, I've been trying to confirm the marriage of David RITCH to Susannah HELMS, but so far I haven't been able to come up with the marriage record. My Helms contact thinks that it is probably true, however, that David and Susannah were husband and wife. Anyhow: thanks for the information you gave me on the RITCH family.

I don't think there's much doubt about the marriage of Leander and (Sophia) Louisa. You're right, however. She was very young at the time of her marriage--sixteen, to be exact--but you've got to remember that her father had died in 1855. Her mother apparently had a hard time raising the family because Martha, Amanda, Sarah, Louisa, and Rebecca all appear on a school poor list in 1860. She was also the youngest daughter and the last one to marry. (Nancy) Rebecca never married and apparently there was something wrong with James Walker--some say he was either mentally retarded or psychologically damaged. Whatever the case may be, we know that he never married either. Not only that, but (Sophia) Louisa was dead at the age of twenty-three after giving birth to three children between 1871 and the year of her death in 1876.

At any rate, take care.

Hello Again, Vivian--

I just noticed something about the marriage of your Daniel Evans BOSWELL to Nona Thomas RITCH, so I thought I'd touch a base or two with you concerning this RITCH family.

Did you know that there are two marriages in the George and Caroline Bates BOSWELL family to men named HELMS? Sarah Frances BOSWELL married William A. HELMS and Sophia Louise BOSWELL married Leander HELMS. Both William and Leander are the sons of Milus (Miles) HELMS and Cordelia Frances BROWN. Now, what makes this whole thing interesting is that
Milus (Miles) HELMS is the son of Allen HELMS and Anna RITCH. Interestingly, both your Emanuel RITCH and the HELMS families (including Anna RITCH) come from NC. I don't know who the parents of Anna RITCH were, but I do know that Allen's father was named Tillman HELMS and that he moved to GA with his two sons (Allen and Andrew) and their families around 1835. I think Tillman also had a sister named Susannah Helms RITCH. I don't know how she figures into the mix, but she may well be Anna's mother. (As I understand it, these HELMS folks are given to marrying their cousins by the droves. :))

My question is--do you have any information on who the parents of this Emanuel RITCH, Nona's grandfather, may have been?

By the way, I have something else interesting concerning this matter. At the time Daniel's father, William BOSWELL (b.1834), was living in Harris County, Milus HELMS was also living there, and so was Sophia Louisa Boswell HELMS and her husband Leander. Sophia died 19 Jul 1876 and Leadner remarried, but he remained in Harris County with two of Sophia's children, George and Amanda (1880 census). I found Sophia's youngest child, Leander, in the home of his grandparents (Milus and Cordelia HELMS) also on the 1880 Harris County census. Ironically, this is the same census that shows Caroline Bates BOSWELL and two of her children in William's household. I don't know. Seems like a lot of coincidences to me

(2), and Mary (Brown) Harran are the parents of two children: 1. Doctor George Patrick, born in Schenectady in 1876. He was educated in the Schenectady schools, studied at Union University, and was graduated M.D. from the College of Physicians and Surgeons, New York City, class of 1903. He took post graduate courses at Roosevelt Hospital, New York City, and Newark Hospital, Newark, New Jersey, receiving diplomas from both. In 1904, he began practice in Schenectady, where he is now (1910) actively engaged. He is a member of the state and county medical societies, and has a most promising future in his chosen profession. He is a Republican in politics, and a member of St. John's Roman Catholic church, and the B. P. O. E. He is unmarried. 2. Thomas (3), died in infancy, 1891.

REICH

The particular branch of the Reich family of Amsterdam, New York, under consideration, have been in the United States since 1870, although William Reich with two sisters came earlier, but they settled in St. Louis, Missouri, and are of the same family. The family is native to Germany, and of all the men and women from the land of thrifty habits who have sought the hospitable shores of the United States, none have more worthily earned the success that has attended their efforts than the Amsterdam family.

(I) The Reich family in Germany are of Bavaria, native to Underfronken, near Wertzburg, the capital of that small political division. Dr. Reich, after the custom of his locality, not only ministered to the ailments of his patients, but shaved the faces of all who desired. He was widely known for his skill as a surgeon and performed many surgical operations. He died at age of forty-eight, but not before he had married and reared a family.

(II) Casper, elder of children of Dr. Reich, was born in Birkenfeld, Underfronken, Bavaria, about 1825. He spent an active industrious life, and died at age of seventy. He never left Bavaria, but his brother William and two sisters emigrated to America, settling at St. Louis, Missouri, where they engaged in market gardening for the St. Louis market. Casper Reich, however, remained at home, where he was a prosperous grocer, adding to the usual grocery line. He also conducted a lumber yard and was something of a wholesale merchant as well. He married Rosanna Hildebrand, born in the town of Heilerchanstadt, Prussia. She died ten years previous to her husband's death, which occurred in 1893, after having accumulated a goodly estate for the time and place. Children: 1. Francis, born 1844; became a farmer and still lives in his native town; married Barbara Steicherwalt, who died, leaving two children. 2. George, see forward. 3. Catherine, born 1851; married Johann Klispies; they live on the old Reich homestead in Bavaria and carry on the business much as did her father, Casper; he is the present postmaster of the village; they have four children.

(III) George, son of Casper and Rosanna Reich, was carefully reared, and after receiving all the educational advantages the town afforded was sent to Ludwig Institute, Wertzburg, where he completed his studies. He then served three years at wood turning, followed by two years apprenticeship at cabinet making, becoming an expert wood engraver and cabinet maker. His mechanical skill has stood him in good service, although he has not followed it constantly as a business. In 1870 (then twenty-two) he embarked at Bremen on the steamship "Breman" for the United States. He worked for a year in New York City at his trade. In 1871 he settled permanently in Amsterdam, New York, and for five years worked constantly at his trade of cabinet maker. In 1876 he began business as a merchant, and for thirty years, until 1906, he continued in business and accumulated a competence that enabled him to retire and enjoy the comfortable home he had purchased in Amsterdam on Guy Park avenue. Here he is spending a quiet life, his diversion being the making of decorative art furniture, which are remarkable specimens of skill and beauty. He is fraternally connected with the Knights of Pythias, the Turners, and is an honorary member of the Arion Society. He is an ardent Republican, and he belongs to the Scott Club. His religious faith is that of the Roman Catholic church, being an original member of St. Joseph's, serving on the building committee and contributing liberally both to the erection and support of that church.

He married in Amsterdam, New York, April 21, 1874, Mary C., born in that city, April 21, 1854, daughter of Jacob and Catherine (Ebersole) Wendling, both born in Alsace, when it was a part of France. Their families had long been resident of the town of Barr, Alsace. They were married there and after the birth of one child, 1854, they took passage from Havre, France, landing in New York, but proceeded at once to Amsterdam, New York, where Jacob worked at his trade of shoemaker until his death at the age of forty-two, May 18, 1874. Jacob Wendling was the son of Andrew Wendling, who lived and died in Barr, Alsace, France. His wife was Theresa Ebersole. Catherine (Ebersole) Wendling, wife of Jacob Wendling and mother of Mrs. George Reich, was the daughter of Jacob and Catherine Ebersole, lifelong descendants of Alsace, where Jacob was a market gardener. He lived to be eighty-two, Catherine, his wife, sixty-nine. They had four children: Sophia, died young. Ameil, eldest son, was a bookkeeper; came to the United States, where he died of lonesomeness and homesickness; he was a "Stranger in a strange land," and mourned for friends and native land until his heart was broken literally. A second son, Jacob, Jr., resides in Barr, the old home, now German territory. Catherine, above mentioned. Catherine (Ebersole) Wendling makes her home with her daughter, Mrs. George Reich. She was born January 6, 1833, yet is remarkably active in mind and body. She is the mother of five children, among whom were: Johanna, died at fifteen; Jacob, died at twenty-two; Julia, born in Barr, October, 1854, wife of Abraham Van O'Linda and has a daughter Edna. Mr. and Mrs. George Reich are the parents of six children, comprising the fourth generation in the United States: 1. C. Arthur, died unmarried, March 17, 1903, aged twenty-seven. 2. Walter, born July 29, 1883; educated in Amsterdam public schools and at Troy Polytechnic Institute; is an electrical engineer; since August, 1907, he has been assistant superintendent of the General Electric Company works at Schenectady, New York; married Alice Macauly, and has a son George (2), born July 13, 1908. 3. Frank, born 1885; died aged twenty-one. 4. Laura, died in infancy. 5. Willie, died aged three.

MACHOLD

In France, during the reign of Napoleon "the Great," lived a young Frenchman by name Machold, whose patriotism and devotion to the "Little Corporal," later his beloved Emperor, led him into the French army. Following his chief beyond the borders of his own land, he found himself at last in southern Germany. Here he received his discharge either by expiration of term, or on account of wounds. He journeyed homeward, until in Saxe Coburg he met a German maid whom he married. They lived in the little town of Alstead, which was ever afterward their home. They reared a family and it is of his descendants that the Machold family of Amsterdam descend. One of their sons married a German girl and died at age of seventy. Unfortunately the given names of these forebears were not preserved; however, to the second generation, was born a son who is the foundation of the following genealogy, and the father of Bernard Machold, the well-known builder of Amsterdam, New York.

(I) George Nicholas Machold was born on the farm settled by, and in the house built by his soldier grandfather, previously mentioned. He was reared on the farm and worked there until arriving at a suitable age to learn a trade. He went to an adjacent city, where he apprenticed himself to a weaver. He became very skillful, as all work done at that time was by the hand method. It is told of him that a famous piece of his handiwork was a beautiful table cloth, into which he had skillfully woven plates, properly placed around the cloth and beside each plate had woven knives and forks. The cloth when spread, would appear like a well appointed dinner table. He prospered and became possessed of some farm property, which he cultivated all of his active life. He, like his forefathers, was a Lutheran in religion, and a good man as well as an industrious, skillful artisan. His wife was a German by birth, native to the province in which they lived. She died when her son was very young and he rarely heard her name.

(II) P. Bernhard, son of George Nicholas Machold, after the death of his mother, was left to the care of his father by whom he was reared and educated. When a young man, he entered a trades school, where he acquired a thorough knowledge of the builder's art, and became a skilled mason. He travelled extensively over different parts of Germany, working at his trade and increasing his knowledge of constructive masonry. In 1868, following a sudden impulse, he sailed for New York, where he arrived in due time. He did not long remain there, but removed to Albany, where he spent his first year in the United States, working at his trade. He next went to Johnstown and in 1869 permanently settled in Amsterdam, New York. In 1870, believing the opportunity had come to establish himself in business, he began contracting mason work and buildings in his own name. He was a skillful, honest builder, and it was not long until his success was assured. So firmly was he established that contracts for the largest and best of the city's construction were given him. He has built five of the largest churches in Amsterdam, also the library building and scores of the best business blocks and private residences in the city. He accumulated a sufficient competence to enable him in 1905 to retire to his comfortable home on MacDonald street, where in a quiet, unassuming way he is enjoying the fruits of his in-

Dear Mrs. Jordan:

Received your letter of 10 October just yesterday --guess it was held up because no zip code on it. Anyway, I have reproduced a copy of the pages of my records that bear the names of RITCH and SNELLINGS. The "RITCH" cemetery is known as cemetery 9, and the SNELLINGS cemetery is known as cemetery 10.

Yes, by all means, you may visit the gravesites at any time you choose. The only requirement is that you clear with Range Division so that you do not enter an area where live firing is being conducted. To clear, you can report to Building 215 and ask to see the clearance map. Someone there will advise you when to enter the areas.

Please keep both my home telephone number (564-7030 -- just in case you arrive on a weekend) and my office telephone number (545-7533 -- where I can be reached during normal duty hours) for contact when you arrive. I will be delighted at any time to come help you locate the gravesites. If I can help you in any way, please feel free to call on me.

Sincerely,

Elsie W. Hight
